Prologue.

GEntles, behold a Rural Muse,
In home-spun Robes and clouted shoes,
Presents you old, but new translated News;

We in the Countrey do not scorn
Our Walls with Ballads to adorn
Of Patient Grizell, and the Lord of Lorne;

Old Tales, old Songs, and an old Jest,
Our Stomachs easili'st digest;
And of all Plays Hieronimo's the best.

We bring you here a Fustian-piece, and Writ by a merry Wag of Greece,
Which yet the Learned say's not much amiss.

Prologue,

And if gainst stile except you shall,
We must acquaint you once for all,
'Tis but Burlesque in the Original.

The Subject is without offence,
Do but some smutty words dispense,
We'l make amends with Rhime, if not with Sense.

Besides, you must not take a picque,
If he sometimes speak plain and gleeke;
Without that license he cou'd be no Greeke.

But we our selves so hate prophaners,
And all corrupters of good manners,
He's qualified for all entertainers;

And is so well reform'd from riot,
His Book is made so wholsom diet,
Virgins and Boys can run no danger by it.

But why a Prologue, you will say,
To what nor is, nor's like a Play?
That I expect you in my dish should lay.

Why,

Prologue.

Why, though this Antick new-vanump Wit
With no such vain design was writ,
That it should either Gallery, Box, or Pit;

Yet my renowned Author says,
These Scenes with those may pass for Plays
Were writ i'th' Dutcheffs of ——— days.

But she is gone (I speak it quaking,
The sleeping Lioness for waking)
To write in a new world of her own making.

And now that she has shot the pit,
You even must contented sit,
And take such homely fare as you can get.

For This, the Rhimer says that penn'd it,
For a fine piece 'twas not intended,
Since in a Month 'twas both begun and ended,

Some favour he expects therefore,
And does your mercies (Sirs) implore
On one that never troubled you before.

Prologue.

*But yet he bid me e're I went hence
To tell you, that what'e're's your sentence,
It shall not cost him half an hours repentance.*

P R O-

PROMETHEUS :

O R,

CAUCASUS.

T*He Author (who no doubt had wit)*

This piece of Railery then writ,

When Paganism was in fashion :

By this ridiculous Narrarion

To beat into the brains o'th' rude

And logger-headed multitude,

That what the wanton Poets feign

Of one Prometheus, is vain,

And fit to be (here be it said)

By none but Coxcombs credited.

The Scoffer Scoff.

Wherein his meaning further is,
To take away th' Authorities
Of Lies and Fables, which did pigeon
The Rabble into false Religion.
Which also was his drift ('tis odds)
In th' other Dialogues o' th' Gods ;
Of which, this here plac'd first of all
Seems to be Captain-General.

DIALOGUE.

Vulcan, Mercury, and Prometheus.

Merc. SO, now to Caucasus w'are got ;
Come, Vulcan, let us look about
For some good Rock, where we may fall
To nailing fast the Criminal.
'Tis more than time that we had done it.
But let's choose one has no Snow on it,
That of both Manacle and Gieve
The Nails we to the head may drive ;

The Scollar Scott.

And one that also on each side
Does open lie to be descry'd,
That Passengers may be aware on't,
And the Rogue's shame the more apparent.

Vulcan. Content; but we must nail him so,
That he may neither hang so low,
That Mortals soon as they shall spie him
May presently come and untie him;
Nor must we fasten him so high,
As to be out of reach of eye,
The torment then would be unknown,
That's meant an exemplary one.
Therefore be rul'd by my advice,
We'll hang him on this Precipice
Ith' middle of the Mountain there,
Chaining one hand to this Rock here,
T'other to that that's opposite,
And there he will hang fair in sight;
Where friend and foe at ease may view him,
But the grand Devil can't get to him.

Mere. I like thy reasons wondrous well;
They both are inaccessible,

Come

The Scoffer Scoff.

Come (Sir Prometheus) if you please,
And mount a step for your own ease ;
Nay, never hang an Arse for th' matter,
It is in vain to cog and flatter :
Come on, I say, and ne're draw back fort,
Or those large lugs of yours will crack fort ;
Why when I say ! come mount apace,
And hang man with a handsom grace.

Prom. Hale me not prithee on this fashion
But take some small commiseration
Upon a pauvre Diable
Unjustly made thus miserable.

Merc. What ! I believe thou art so kind
(Thou bear'st a very loving mind)
To have us truss'd up in thy room
For disobeying great Jove's Doom !
Do'st think this Caucasus to be Too little to hold all us three ?
Or would it comfort be to thee
T'have fellows in thy misery ?

Your Servant Sir, we thank you kindly,
And in return we mean to bind ye

Where any friend you have may find ye.

Com

me (Sir) your right hand; Vulcan drive:
well driven, as I hope to live!

Such things I see thou hast an art in;
That hand I warrant's fast for starting.

me (Sir) your left; here strike again,
and drive this home with might and main.

Ha! ha! old Smutty-face, well said,
Thou hast hit the nail (I faith) o'th' head.

Here, here, now take me this right leg,
and drive me here another peg.

Well said! here make me this fast too,
and then there is no more to do.

Well said, thou hast done it to a hair:

Now, now (Sir) you may take the air,
and may contemplate all alone;

The Vulture will come down anon

To prey upon your Entrails, Don;

A recompence, a worthy one,

For your most fine Invention.

Prom. O gentle mother Earth that bore me,
And in thy throes didst loud groan for me!

Thou Saturn, and Jupiter too,

Alas the day, what shall I do?

What

What ! must I undergo this wo-thing
And suffer thus for doing nothing ?

Merc. No, call'st it nothing (wicked)
To cheat great Jove at a great Feast!
To give him bones (a trick that new Smear'd over with a little Brewis,
And keep the best o'th' Meat (forfooth)
For your own Worships dainty tooth!
Besides, I wonder much (Wise-aker)
Who 'twas that made you a Man-maker
That subtle crafty Animal;
And Woman too, the worst of all!
And then to steal the Fire from Heaven
Which only to the Gods was given;
And that they prize above all measure
Much more than all their other Treasure
After all which, hast thou a face
So varnish'd, nay so vaump'd with brass
Or rather steel'd with impudence,
To preach to us thy innocence!
And to complain thou hast wrong done
Thou wicked Rogue, now out upon thee

The Scotter Scott.

Præm. Hast thou the stony heart to rate
And use me thus in this estate?
To reproach me for things here,
Which, by all the Gods I swear,
And all of them to witness call
That dine and sup in Jove's fair Hall,
Deserve, rather than this Doom,
Suspension'th' * Prytæneum.
And if thou wouldst but give me leisure,
Sadness, I could take a pleasure
For all, I know, thou much dost glory
(thy renowned Oratory)
Now with thee to dispute the case,
And argue't with thee face to face;
To baffle in thy person here
My mighty Master Jupiter.
Take then upon thee his defence
With all thy mighty Eloquence,
And make't appear that he has reason
To chain me here this bitter season,
In prospect of the Caspian-Ports,
To which the trading world resorts,

* The Exchequer of Athens.

To

The Scoffer Scoff.

To all these Crowds of men to be
A spectacle of misery ;
Yea, (and what's more) of horror, even
To Scythians, to whom is given

* The Author means driven by necessity of Trading, as well as by the Winds.

By all that have been hither * driven,
The name of bloodiest under Heaven.
Merc. Faith thy defence comes now too
But, if thou hast a mind to prate,

We'll give thee hearing, and we may,
For we are here enjoyn'd to stay

* The Vulture.

Until we see the * Pigeon-driver
Come down to prey upon thy Liver.

In the mean time we'll shew our breed
In our attention to thy pleading ;
Make use of time then, and be quick
In powring out thy Rhetorick,
'Twill doubtless ravish ; for I hear
Thou art a mighty Sophister.

Prom. Nay, to speak first it is thy part
Because thou my accuser art ;
And in so doing, take heed, pray,
You don't your Masters cause betray.

The Scoffer Scott.

ing here shall stand by, and be mute,
and be the Judge of our dispute.

even Vulc. Who, I be Judge against my Father!

Thy Peacher or thy Hangman rather,

n, or having my own Forge bereaven

n. Of heat, by stealing Fire from Heaven.

too Prom. Why then I'll tell you what to do,

Your Accusations split in two ;

y, Thou of the Theft to speak hadst best,

And let him handle all the rest ;

r. Other Offences leave to him :

ed And also it would ill beseem

The God of Thieves in open Session

To speak against his own Profession.

Vulc. No, no, to meddle I am loath,

Mercury here shall speak for's both :

He is a Clerk of better reading,

For my part I've no skill in pleading :

He has been bred to't, I was ne're

Out out to be a Barrester ;

My head too heavy was, and logger,

Ever to make a Pettifogger.

* Speaking to Vulcan.

The Scoffer Scold.

I'll nere deny it, I've more art
In clouting of a crasie Cart:
But he by bawling, 'tis well known,
Has gotten many a good half-Crown;
And by that Trade has got his living,
(For all thy talk) as well as Thieving.

Merc. It would require a tedious time,
Piecemeal to handle ev'ry Crime
Of which thou lowfie, mangy, filthy,
Abominable Knaue, art guilty:
Nor is't enough in running fashion
Barely to name each accusation;
But, since my Gentleman confesses,
Nay glories in his wickednesses,
My task by that so much the less is,
And it great folly were to babble
A great long tedious ribble-ribble
Of Crimes would load a Council-Table,
And go about with grave Sentences
To prove a Bead-roll of Offences,
Of which, without being so strict,
He is by his own mouth convict.

The Scoffer Scoff.

IX

And therefore I shall say but this,
That underniably it is
The greatest injury can be
To Jupiter's great Clemency,
So often to relapse into Crimes (Sir) for which you full well knew
The Gallows were long since your due;
And, in defiance still of Heaven,
To sin as often as forgiven.

Prom. A great Case in few words laid open;
Learnedly has your Worship spoken:
Good Master Serjeant, y've undone
The Lawyers ev'ry Mothers Son:
'Tis pity but you had held on,
It was so pithy an Oration.

But now how wise your Accusation
Is in the substance, would be known,
And that (Sir) we shall see anon.
But since you think y've said enough,
Without one syllable of proof,
I'll enter into my Defence,
To answer your great Eloquence.

B

And

The Scoffer Scoff.

And first and formost here I all
 The Gods in Heav'n to witness call,
 It pities me to th' heart to see
 That the great Jupiter should be
 So out of humor, and so grum,
 As to pronounce this heavy doom,
 Not only on a Man, but even
 A God who has a right in Heaven,
 One of the merriest of boon blades,
 And one too of his old Comrades,
 Nay one that some time (much good do him)
 Has been full serviceable to him:
 And all this only for a Jest;
 I put upon him at a Feast!
 But had I thought he'd been so lodden
 Of his bak'd, fry'd, boil'd, rost, and sodden,
 I should (I am not such a Noddy)
 Have jested with some other body.
 Thou know'st what liberty of jesting
 Every one takes when they are feasting,
 Where we throw Cushions, Chairs, and Stools
 And none but Children, or meer Fools,

The Scoffer Scott.

13

Any thing ever do take ill,
Let a man do whate're he will:
But evermore the better sort
Turn all to railery and sport.
But for one, of the state He is,
To let such a poor thing as this (Scarcely the shadow of a wrong)
Lie festring in his heart so long,
And to this damnable degree
To wreak his anger as you see,
In my poor judgment is a part
So much below the generous heart
Not only of a God to do,
And of all Gods the Sovereign too;
But even of a Gentleman,
A civil, and well-bred man:
For if such honest liberties,
Such pastimes, and such tricks as these,
Must banish'd be from merry meetings,
I fain would know what at such sittings
There will be left to do, but fill
Ones Guts like bruits, to munch and swill?

Which

The Scoffer Scott.

Which is unfit (if I am able To judge) of any civil Table.
 I did not then, I swear, imagine
 He would have taken't in such dudgeon;
 Or that he'd had so little wit,
 As the next day to think of it;
 Much less he would have been so canker'd,
 So false a Brother of the Tankard,
 As to have plagu'd me in this sort
 For what I only did in sport.
 What! if in play I made one Mess
 Than others something worse and less,
 And offer'd 'em to his refusing,
 Only to try his wit in choosing?
 Was that so heinous an offence,
 He must bear malice ever since,
 And nourish such a damn'd malignity,
 As if the uttermost indignity
 Both to his Person, and his Crown,
 I offer'd had that e're was known?
 But come now, at the worst let's take it,
 And mak't as ill as ill can make it:

Supper

The Scoffer Scoff.

Suppose then, more than tho' didst at first,
Not only that his share was worst,
But that he'd had no part at all;
Must he for this make all this brawl?
And must he (as th'old saying is)
For such a trivial toy as this
(A thing indeed not worth a feather)
Shuffle both Heav'n and Earth together?
And of one meal for the great losses,
Of nothing talk but Stocks, and Crosses,
Wracks, Gibbets, and these new devices,
Of Vultures, Rocks, and Precipices!
Let him take heed when this is bruted,
That this proceeding ben't imputed
To an unworthiness of Spirit:
I promise you I greatly fear it.
For a great thing, I fain would know,
What would this Thundrer stick to do,
Whomakes this strange unheard-of clutter
For losing of his bread and butter?
How many men would scorn this odd,
This strange proceeding of a God!

The Scoffer Scott.

Does any History relate,
 That ever man of any state,
 So greedy was, or passionate,
 To make, or put his Cook away,
 For licking of his fingers, pray ?
 Or if a Tripe, or so, he rifles,
 One ne're regards such petty trifles ;
 Or if one do chastise him for it,
 'Tis only with a kick, or whirret :
 But for so small a peccadil
 To send a man up Holborn-hill,
 An act is of an odious dye,
 And an unheard-of cruelty !

Thus much to say I've tane occasion
 To th' first point of my accusation ;
 Wherein so pitiful's the matter
 Which does my Innocence bespatter,
 That (though I do not often use it)
 I almost blush'd but to excuse it ;
 They then may sure blush well enough
 Who charge me with such wretched Ruff.

Let's now to the next Charge proceed,
 And that's a heinous one indeed,

The making Man ; wherein I am
 To seek 'gainst what you would declaim :
 Whether the thing a Crime you call
 Consist in making man at all ;
 Or that it only is the fashion
 That wants your Worships approbation ?
 But we'll examine both, that's fair :
 And to the first I do declare,
 The Gods so far from losing are,
 Any thing by this new Creation,
 That (if they would be folks of fashion,
 And with their Neighbours would be quiet)
 They're infinitely gainers by it.
 And (tho they will be so outrageous)
 For them 'tis much more advantageous,
 That there be men, tho they be evil,
 Deform'd, and wicked as the Devil,
 And good, or bad, or low, or tall,
 Than that there should be none at all.
 And (back into past time to go,)
 In the beginning, you must know,

The Scoffer Scoff.

The World, which now no Tenants wants,
 Save Gods, had no Inhabitants.
 At which good time the Earth (alas!)
 Nought but a vast wild Desart was,
 All over-grown with Trees and Bushes,
 Mansions for Blackbirds, Jays, and Thrushes,
 Where there no riding was, nor walking,
 Good store of Game, but no good Hawking;
 Where Herds of Deer did graze and fill 'em,
 But no body to hunt and kill 'em.
 For whence (Sir Mercury) by your leave,
 Do you in your wise head conceive
 Come all those goodly well-till'd fields,
 That so good Wheat and Barley yield;
 Whence these fine Gardens with their flowers,
 These Temples with their stately Towers,
 Of Altars all this mighty store,
 And Statues which the world adore,
 And several things that I could mention,
 But from Man's labour and invention?
 Therefore as I, who from a Groom
 No bigger than a Millers Thumb,

Have

Have still been taking daily pains,
 And cudgelling about my brains,
 To find inventions out that shou'd
 Conduce unto the publick good,
 Was musing after my old rate,
 And meditating this and that,
 An old Diogenes in Tub-like
 For something useful to the publick :
 As Poets sing, without delay .
 I took some water, and some clay,
 An tempring them together * thus
 Een made a Man like one of us.
 Wherein Minerva was an Actress,
 (I'll not conceal my Benefactress) •
 And this is all, as I am civil,
 That I committed have of Evil.
 A mighty matter (without doubt)
 For Jove to keep this stir about !
 But what complain the Gods of trow ?
 What is it that offends them so ?
 Do not my Creatures them adore ?
 Are they less Gods now, than before

• Betwixt his finger and his thumb.

The Scoffer Scoff.

I undertook this Puppets trade,
 And male and female Babies made ?
 For but to see how Jupiter
 Does fret, and fume, and stamp, and stare,
 Threaten, and huff, and swear, and swagger
 And clap his hand on dudgeon Dagger,
 A man would think that he had lost
 The half of his Estate almost,
 At least his Grandfathers Seal-Ring;
 Or some most dear-beloved thing.
 What ? is his Majesty afraid
 Those dapper fellows I have made
 Against his power should rant and roar,
 As did the Giants heretofore !
 Or if they should turn Mutineers,
 (Which yet they dare not for their ears)
 Is He who could the Sons of Titan
 (For all their huffing) make be-----'um,
 Much more reduce them all to reason,
 Grown feeble now, than at that season ?
 The Gods then by my fine device
 Sustain no kind of prejudice.

21

But, to shew forth and make it plain
That they by my invention gain,
Do but behold the Earth, which was
In former days a barren place,
With Thorns and Brambles over-spread ;
But now improv'd and husbanded,
Affording things innumerable
To cloath mans back, and store his Table :
For of it self it nought produces
But Crabs, and Fruits of sower juyces.
Nay, ev'n the Sea is in some fashion
Appeas'd and tam'd by Navigation.
The Islands are inhabited,
The Worlds round face with Cities spread,
Where men do Sacrifice, and pray
On many a merry Holy-day.
In short (as the small Poet says)
Temples, Towns, Streets, nay the high-ways,
(As oft as people travel there)
Are all brim-full of Jupiter.
Again, if one could make a story
That I had aim'd at my own glory

The Scoffer Scoff.

In doing this, it something were ;
 But it does contrary appear :
 For 'mongst so many Fanes that rise
 To such a Crew of Deities,
 Of any one didst hear't related
 Unto Prometheus dedicated ?
 Which does sufficiently declare,
 That I my own particular
 Honour and Interest have neglected,
 And, but the Publick, nought respected.
 Consider further (Mercury)
 That what we call felicity,
 Without a witness looking on
 Can be but an imperfect one ;
 And that if Mortals there were none
 To see this great Creation,
 The World would be but a dead Mass,
 And our advantages much less,
 (Tho the strange Fabrick well require it)
 In having no one to admire it.
 Again, as things to us are known
 But only by Comparison ;

So if unhappy men were none,
 Our happiness would be unknown;
 And for such benefits as these,
 Instead of giving me large Fees,
 At least great Honour for reward,
 You crucifie me, which goes hard;
 That smart unto my feeling sense
 Must be my Virtues recompence.
 But what ! there are Adulterers,
 Murtherers, Robbers, Ravishers,
 Perhaps you'll argue amongst Men :
 Why, if there are, I pray what then ?
 Are there not amongst Us the same,
 As void of honesty and shame ?
 And yet for this we don't condemn
 The Heav'n and Earth that nourish'd them.
 But you will add perhaps this more,
 That we've more trouble than before,
 And are put to't to find supplies
 For many more necessities :
 Who ever heard, I know would fain,
 A Shepherd of his Flock complain

For

The Scoffer Scoff.

For fruitfulness, tho they can'd double,
 Because they helpt him to more trouble?
 If painful 'tis, 'tis profitable,
 Nay pleasant too, and honorable ;
 And this advantage brings with't too;
 It finds us something still to do ;
 Whereas we otherwise should go
 With hands in pockets every day,
 And nothing have to do but play ;
 Or swill and guttle every day
 With Nectar and Ambrosia.

But that at which most vext I am,
 Is to hear those the most exclaim
 Of men, who least can be without 'um,
 And if they women meet do rout 'um,
 For the fine knacks they wear about 'um.
 And though they keep this mighty puther,
 Do love them more than any other.
 Nay, and each day to thousand shapes
 Transform themselves to act their Rapes,
 And not contented (as they say)
 To take a snatch, and so away :

But that they may stick longer tot,
Ev'n make them Goddesses to boot.
But some may say, that I had reason,
And that Man-making was no treason;
Only it should not have been thus,
To make him like to one of us.
And could I in ingenuous Noddle
Have chosen out a fitter Model
Whereby my art might be exprest,
Than what I knew was perfectest?
Had I begun my making Trade
With four legg'd Beasts, and Brutes had made,
Perhaps it would have been no sin,
And I no Criminal had been:
But from such Creatures of meer sence,
Devoid of all intelligence,
With faces prone, and looks dejected,
What Service could you have expected?
The Gods had been without dispute
Most rarely worship't by a Brute:
A great Bull would have been, I fear,
But an obstreperous worshipper,

And

The Scoffer Scott.

And bellowing Prayers, I'm afraid
 Great Jupiter would have dismaid.
 An Ass or Horse in senseless wise
 Would bray or whinny Liturgies.
 To hear (Sir Mercury) it would fear ye
 A Wolf bawl out a Miserere ;
 And t'hear a Lion, worse than that,
 Roaring out a Magnificat.
 Come, come, (my Masters) say I must
 That you are horribly unjust.
 You stick not far as Ægypt roam
 Only to snuff a Hecatomb,
 And Him the cause your malice dooms
 You Altars have and Hecatombs.
 But come, enough of this ! Let's on
 To my last Accusation,
The stealing fire. And first, have I
 Impoverish'd any Deity
 By having given it to men ?
 Or have you now less fire, than when I had therewith inspir'd no-Creature ?
 And is it not the proper nature

The Scoffer Scott.

Of that warm Element to dart
Its rays and heat to every part,
And yet still to continue Fire,
Keeping its virtue still entire
Then what a vain Objection's this,
A poor fetch, and a meer caprice,
Below and unbecoming all
The Poets Benefactors call!
Besides, had I purloined even
To the last spark of fire in Heav'n,
I had not wrong'd the Gods a bit ;
They boil no Pot, nor turn no Spit :
For your Ambrosia does not need
To be or hash'd, or fricasseed.
A Cook may there forget his Trade,
Where nor Pottage, nor Olia's made :
Whereas poor men, contrarywise,
Want it for their necessities,
If for no other use at all
But t'Sacrifice to you withal.
Do you not love to smell the Roast
Of a good Rammish Holocaust ?

The Scoffer Scoff.

So that 'tis plain (for all pretences)
 You speak against your Consciences.
 I wonder (hang me if I don't)
 Since this is such a great affront,
 And of your Fire since y'are so wary,
 You han't forbid Don Luminary
 T'impart his Light, which is, I'm sure,
 A Fire more glorious and more pure ;
 And that, t'orethrow the use of Dial,
 You do not bring him to his trial,
 For having thus, without all measure,
 Profusely squander'd out your Treasure,
 And, like a treacherous trust-breaker,
 Lewdly embezzel'd your Exchequer.

This is (you pair of Jove's Bumbailiffs,
 Or Hangmen rather) sum totalis
 Of what I'd for my self to say ;
 If you confute me can, you may :
 But (for I ever lov'd plain-dealing)
 (O Mercury, thou God of stealing)
 To tell thee the plain truth o'th' story,
 'Tis past, I doubt, thy Oratory :

But do me right, pledge and twere water ;

Reply, altho not much to th' matter.

Merc. It is not easie (I confess)

To baffle such a plate of brass ;

For in my days I ne're did hear

So impudent a Sophister.

And well's thee Jupiter's not near thee,

Who, had he chanc'd to over-hear thee,

I confidently do assure thee

Thou wouldst have so provok'd his fury,

By slandering him, under pretence

Of pleading in thy own defence ;

So vilely slandering him, that he

For such a grand indignity

Would in his burning indignation

Have sent thee down, instead of One,

A dozen Vultures of a feather

To prey upon thy Lungs together.

But tell me why thou, being a Prophet,

(For surely thou knew'st nothing of it)

Hadst not the knowledge to foresee

The evil was to fall on thee ?

The Scoffer Scoff.

Prom. Oh (Mercury) hold thee content;
 One may foresee, but not prevent.
 I did foresee it well enough;
 Of which to give thee further proof,
 Know that I likewise did foresee

Hercules. A * Theban should deliver me,
 One of thy old acquaintance, and
 A proper fellow of his hand,
 Who with a lusty Bolt and Tiller
 Will come and be my Vultures killer.

Merc. I wish he were already come,
 And that in Jove's great Dining-Room
 We were, with each one a good thwittle,
 Again set down to swill and vittle,
 Provided (Signior) do you see,
 That you should not the Carver be,
 Especially (my Friend) for me.

Prom. Why thou wilt see me there agen,
 Marry, I cannot just say when :
 But I will tell thee 'twixt us two,
 I shall so rare a service do
 For Jupiter, that for my labour
 He will restore me to his favour.

The Scoffer Scoff.

31

Merc. What service is it that so great is?

Prom. Thou know'st a Lass call'd Madam
A pretty little wanton Drab : (Thetis,
But I a secret will not blab
That is to purchase and advance
My peace and my deliverance.

Merc. If it be so, thoudost full well,
Yea, and full wisely, not to tell :
But Vulcan come, we must away,
For yonder is the Bird of prey,
I see him in a Kill-duck place,
Ready to make a stoop : Alas !
Beware thy Liver now, I'm sorry
(Prometheus) very sorry for ye,
And wish thy Liberator were
As ready, as the danger's near.

GODS.

Prometheus and Jupiter.

P. OH, Jupiter ! I'm glad to see thee ;
And now th'art here, take pity prithers
Upon a poor old Cinque and Quater,
Has paid for playing the Creator.
In truth I've suffer'd out of reason,
And eke withal so long a season,
That, if thou wouldst be good condition'd,
Thou'dst think that were e'en sufficient
For a far greater fault than mine is,
And to my torments put a Finis.
Never was Man tormented thus !
Hang me if this same Caucasus

Be not the coldest Habitation
 think in all the whole Creation ;
 And 'twixt the Vulture, and the Weather,
 The Cold, the Kite, or both together ;
 Altho I do not eat a jot,
 (Saving thy presence) I have got
 So damn'd a griping in my Guts,
 That, as I'd surfeited of Nuts,
 I've thirty stools a day at least ;
 Then prithee let me be releast,
 For I have purg'd so wondrous sore,
 That truly I can do no more.

Jup. Who I release thee ? that's a good one !
 Release a Rogue, release a Pudden !
 I would thou couldst perswade me to it :
 For what I prithee should I do it ?
 For which of these fine pranks th'ast plaid ?
 The pretty Fellows thou hast made,
 Have caus'd such mischief 'mongst the Gods,
 That we e're since have been at odds ?
 Or, for thy filching Fire from Heaven,
 To animate the uncouth Leaven ?

The Scoffer Scoff.

Or, which of Crimes is not the least,
 Cheating thy Master at a Feast ?
 When, like a sawcy ill-bred waiter,
 Thou for thy self the flesh couldst cater,
 And trait'rously, and for the nones,
 Mad'st me thy Dog to pick thy bones ?
 For which, Sir Sawce-box, dost thou see,
 Since thou'lt make Men, I'll unmake Thee,
 And I have hung your Worship there
 In this convenient nipping Air,
 As I conceiv'd it did require,
 To cool thee after stealing Fire :
 And as to those thy Belly-gripes,
 Know, Rogue, my Vulture loves fat Tripes,
 And I will feed him upon thine,
 Because thou once defeatedst mine.

Prom. But for these faults, and for a score
 Greater than these, nay twenty more,
 Have I not suffer'd full enough ?
 For tho my Hi le be well and tough,
 Thou know'st it is not made of Buff,
 And neither Frost, nor Vulture-proof.

Beside

Besides, this Vulture, by this light,
Is the plain Devil of a Kite :
His hooked, black, deformed beak,
I think thro Mars his Shield would peck ;
His feet, wherewith my sides he tickles,
Have Talons more like Scyths than Sickles;
When he's in's place high in the Air,
He seems as big as Cossioare,
Where some time lying on his wings,
After a few preparing rings,
He makes his stoop, and down he comes Whil'st fear my very heart benums)
With such a whirlwind and a powder,
That, tho thy Thunder may be louder,
Thy Lightning is not half so quick,
Nor does it make one half so sick ;
And gives my Liver such a thump,
That the blow ecchoes at my Rump.
Then fastning in my Ribs his pounces,
He tears my Stomach out by Ounces ;
Preys on my Liver, Lights, and Lungs,
And in my Paunch his beak bedungs.

So

The Scoffer Scoff.

So that but even yesternight,
 Coming to take his supping-flight,
 As in my bowels he was tugging,
 He lights upon a Master-pudding,
 Which as he pull'd still, still did follow,
 So much more fast, than he could swallow,
 That had I not (upon my word)
 Because I know thou lov'st the Bird,
 With my teeth caught him by the Train,
 He'd ne're on Carrion prey'd again.
 Therefore, if all the miseries
 I have endur'd will not suffice,
 Yet let this one good Office do't,
 And ease me at my humble suit. (plain

Jup. Wereth'pains whereof thou dost com
 As many and as great again ;
 Yet were they not the hundredth part
 Of what is justly thy desert.
 Thou should'st by Caucasus, thou Scab,
 Be crush'd as flat as Verjuice-Crab,
 And not be only ty'd unto it
 To choak a Spar-hawk with thy Suet.

Nay,

ay, thou art such a Malefactor,
 And in all ills so vile an Actor,
 As should not only have thy Liver
 Prey'd on by twenty Kites together ;
 But yet moreover have thine eyes
 Pick'd out, to pay thy treacheries,
 And even thy felonious heart,
 Hadst thou but half of thy desert.

Pro. Well, thou maist follow thine own will,
 And if thou wilt torment me still :
 But if thou wouldst but be contented
 To pardon me, thou-dst ne're repent it :
 For I shall such a caution give thee,
 Will make thee glad thou didst reprieve me.

Jup. What ! I perceive thou now wouldst
 Be loose to gull me once again. (fain

Prom. Prithee by that what should I get ?
 Canst thou Mount Caucasus forget ?
 Or if there yet were no such place,
 Hast thou not thousand other ways,
 Whose pow'rs so uncontroul'd and ample,
 To make me a most sad example ?

Jup.

The Scoffer Scoff.

Jup. Come, come, I cannot stay to prate
Nor hear thy idle tittle tattle.

What (for no more thou now shalt dore
If I release thee wilt do for me ?

Come leave thy wheedling and thy cogg
And tell me, for I must be jogging.

Pro. Wilt thou not take it, Jove, in dudge
If I now tell thee where th'art trudging ?

And wilt thou henceforth now believe me,

And in thy heart that credit give me,

If I tell truth unto a tittle,

That I can prophesie a little ?

Jup. What else ?

Prom. Why then, to cure thy itching,

Jove, thou now going art a bitching,

And so immoderate thy heat is,

As none can quench but Nereide Thetis.

Jup. Well, if I should play such a feat,

What Issue shall we two beget ?

Prom. What Issue ! marry out upon her

By no means meddle with that Spawner :

For if thou dost, I'll tell thee what,

A graceless Child will be begot

perwixt Thee and that blew-ey'd Slattern,
 Will depose Thee as thou didst Saturn ;
 At least so threat the Destinies :
 And therefore, if thou wilt be wise,
 Let her alone, and come not at her,
 But elsewhere lead thy Nag to water.
Jup. Well, since th'ast hit the nail o' th' head,
 I'll once by thy advice be led ;
 And for thy counsels recompence
Vulcan shall come and loose thee hence.
 For all past faults I quit thee clear,
Pram. Why then I thank thee Jupiter.

DIALOGUE.

Jupiter and Cupid.

Cup. AH Jupiter, I prethee hear,
 For thine own sake, good Jupiter,
 If I am guilty of a Crime,
 Do but forgive me this one time,
 And if I e're do so agin,
 Then whip me till the blood do spin.

What

The Scoffer Scoff.

What ! will not Jove be reconcil'd,
But still bear malice to a Child ?

Jup. A Child, thou little Rakehell thou !
A pretty Child thou art I trow !
Older than Japhet, little Hang-string,
Tho one might wear thee in his Band-string,
And then for art and subtlety,
Prometheus is an Ass to thee.

Cup. That Painters best and Poets know,
Who, ever represent me so ;
And unto them I do refer it,
Who, if they are put to't, will swear it :
But were I what thou'dst have me be,
What mischief have I done to thee,
That ought t'engage thine indignation
To use me on this cruel fashion ?

Jup. What dost thou ask me, Nere-be-good !
When thou hast so enflam'd my blood,
That, as I Philters swallow'd had,
I every day run whinnying mad
For every Woman that I see,
And yet thou mak'st not one love me !

So that each day to feed my Vices,
 I'm put to pump for new devices,
 And to put on a thousand shapes;
 The better to commit my Rapes.

Cup. That is because the Women fear thee,
 And therefore tremble to come near thee.

Jup. And yet the ill-condition'd Toads
 Can love forsooth the other Gods,
Apollo he can have his joys
 Both with the Wenches and the Boys.

Cup. The cause of that is quickly guess'd,
 He's handsome, and goes sprucely dress'd;
 And yet for all his powder'd Locks,
 His Songs and Sonnets with a Pox,
 And that he goes so fine and trim,
Daphne could never fancy him;
 Nor could he e're her liking move,
 So absolutely free is Love.
 But wouldst thou spend each day an hour
 In dressing, and not look so sowre,
 Which (in plain truth) does mainly fright 'em
 I make no question but thou'dst smite 'em.

But

The Scoffer Scoff.

But then it will be requisite,
 If thou wilt turn a Carpet-Knight,
 To lay those by all Women dread,
 Thy Thunder and thy Gorgons-head.

Jup. What, Rogue, wouldst have me to lay
 The Ensigns of my Deity!
 That's pleasant counsel, faith; but yet
 I think I shall not follow it:
 No, sirrah, I shall more prefer
 The Dignity of Jupiter.

Cup. Then thou must Women let alone.

Jup. No, I shall wench still, ten to one;
 And yet (for all thy haste) not bate
 One inch or rittle of my state.
 Howe're, since thou so well hast prated,
 My anger is for once abated,
 And I forgive thee all old grutches.

Cup. I'm glad I'm got out of his clutches.

DI

DIALOGUE.

Mercury and Jupiter.

Jup. Dost thou know Io, Mercury?

Merc. Io! yes surely,--let me see,--

Oh, Inachus's pretty Daughter! (sought her;

Jup. The same, thou know'st I long have }
And now at last that I have caught her,

Dost think but Juno my curst Foe

Has turn'd the Girl into a Cow,

Out of pure Jealousie to cheat me,

And of my pleasure to defeat me;

And has deliver'd her to keep

Ta Monster that does never sleep,

But having eyes in every place,

Even in his arse as well as face,

A hundred spread all o're his parts,

Both where he speaks, and where he farts,

Whilst some of them a nap do take,

Others are evermore awake.

So that unless I had a spell

To bull my Cow invisible,

The Scoffer Scott.

I ne're can think to take him napping,
 And from his sight there's no escaping.
 But Thou, I know, a way canst tell
 To rid me of this Centinel :
 Thou wit and courage hast enough ;
 Prithee now put them both to proof.
 Go then to the Nemean Grove,
 Where the foul Monster guards my Love,
 And for my sake take so much pains
 As fairly to knock out his brains.
 When having batter'd his thick skull,
 To Ægypt drive my lovely Mull,
 Where they shall pay her Sacrifices
 Under th'adored name of Isis :
 There she shall sway the winds and waves,
 And be the Queen of Galley-slaves.

Merc. I go, and if I find him once,
 With my Battoon I'll bang his sconce
 So pretty well, as shall suffice
 To put out all his hundred eyes.

Jupiter and Ganimede.

Come kiss me pretty little stranger,
 Now that we are got clear from danger;
 And that to please my pretty Boy
 I've laid my Beak and Talons by.

Gan. What are become of them, I trow!
 Thou hadst them on but even now.
 Didst thou not come where I did keep,
 Thinking no harm, my Fathers Sheep,
 In Eagles shape, and with a swoop
 Like a small Chicken truss me up?
 And art thou now turn'd Man! this change
 Is very wonderfully strange:
 Sure thou art one of those same folk as
 I've heard 'em call a Hocus-pocus.

Jup. No, my sweet Boy, thou tell'st a flim,
 Nor Eagle I, nor Jugler am:
 But Sovereign of the Gods, who have Transform'd my self (my pretty Knave)
 Into these Man and Eagles shapes,
 To snap my little Jack-a-napes.

The Scoffer Scoff.

Gan. Sure thou art our God Pan, and yet
 Thou hast no horns, nor cloven feet,
 Nor yet a Pipe that I do see,
 The marks of that great Deity.

Jup. Know'st thou no other Gods but he?

Gan. No, but to Him I know that we Ev'ry year sacrifice a Goat
 Before the entry of his Grot.

And as for Thee (altho with trembling)
 I tell thee plain, without dissembling,
 I judge thee for to be no better
 Than that bad thing some call a Setter,
 Others a Spirit, that doth lie
 In wait to catch up Infantry,
 Whogive them plums, and fine tales tell 'em
 To steal them first, and after sell 'em.

Jup. But heark thee child ! didst never hear
 Of a great God call'd Jupiter ?
 Didst never see upon a high-day
 An Altar drest upon Mount Ida,
 Where folks come crowding far and near
 To offer to the Thunderer ?

yet Gan. What art thou he that makes the rattle
 Pth' air which frights both Men and Cattle,
 Sow'rs all the Milk, and doth so clatter
 Both above ground and under water,
 That Men not dare to shew their heads,
 Nor Eels lie quiet in their beds ?
 If thou be that same Jupiter,
 To thee my Father every year
 Does sacrifice a Tup, a good one ;
 Then speak in truth & conscience, wou'd one
 Be so ungrateful a Curmudgel,
 To steal away his Age's Cudgel ? -
 Besides, what have I done, I pray,
 Should make thee spirit me away ?
 Who knows but now, whilst I'm in Heaven,
 My flock being left at six and seven,
 The Wolfs amongst them breaking's fast,
 Nay perhaps worry'ng up the last ?

Jup. Why let the Wolf e'en play the glutton,
 'Tis but a little rotten mutton.

r Fie, what a whimp'ring dost thou keep
 For a few mangy lowlie Sheep !

Gan D 3 Thou

The Scoffer Scoff.

Thou must forget such things (my Lad)
 Why thou art now immortal made,
 Fellow t'th' Gods, and therefore now
 Must think no more of things below.

Gan. What then I warrant, Jupiter,
 Thou dost intend to keep me here,
 And wilt not deign to make a stoop
 To set me where thou took'st me up?

Jup. I think I shall not, (my small friend)
 For if I do I lose my end,
 And all that I by that should gain
 Would be my labour for my pain.

Gan. I but my Sire will angry be,
 So angry when he misses me,
 That he will soundly firk my dock
 For thus abandoning his flock.

Jup. For that (my pretty Boy) ne're fear;
 For thou shalt always tarry here.

Gan. Nay but I wonnot, so I wonnot,
 Nor you shan't keep me, no you shannot:
Spight of your Nose, and will ye, will ye,
 I will go home again, that will I.

But if thou wouldst so far befriend me,
As set me down where thou didst find me;
I'll sacrifice (I do not mock)
To thee the fairest Tup i'th' flock.

Jup. Thou'rt simple, and a child indeed,
To think that I such Offerings need !

Tup-mutton's t'me the worst of meat ;
And thou too must such things forget :
Thou'rt now in Heav'n fit to do
Thy Father good and Countrey too ;
Nor need'st thou now his anger fear,
His arm's too short to reach thee here ;
Nor shalt thou henceforth dread the Rod,
Thou no more Boy art, but a God.
Far better fare thou shalt find here,
Than that same sower-sawc'd whipping chear :
Far better here thou shalt be fed,
Than with hard crusts of dry brown bread,
Sow'r milk, salt butter, and hard cheese :
No, thou shalt feed, instead of these,
Or your slip slap of Curds and Whey,
On Nectar and Ambrosia.

The Scoffer Scoff.

And if thou'lt do as thou shouldst do,
Shalt see thy Constellation too
Shine brighter, and in higher place,
Than all the rest the Sky that grace.

Gan. I, but when I've a mind to play,
What play-fellows are here I pray?
For every day (excepting Friday)
I'd play-fellows ding-dong on Ida.

Jup. Why Cupid shall attend thy call,
To play at Cat, or Trap, or Ball,
Dust-point, Span-counter, Skittle-pins,
And thou no more shalt play for pins:
But have a care, the little Guts
Will be too hard for thee at Butts.
Thou'lt have thy belly full of sport,
I give thee here my promise for't,
And brave sport too, but then (I trow)
Thou must forget the things below.

Gan. Well, but thou hast not told me yet
What I must do to earn my meat?
Hast thou here any flocks of Sheep
To send me out a days to keep?

Jup. No, thou a life shalt have much fairer;
Thou to the Gods shalt be Cup-bearer,
And purest Nectar to them fill
Whilst at their merry Feasts they swill.

Gan. Is that same Nectar which they drink
Better than red-Cows milk dost think? (sted,

Jup. Thou'dst ne'r drink other whilst life la-
Hadst thou but once that liquor tasted.

Gan. But then where must I lie a-nights?
For I am monstrous fraid of Sprites;
I hope in hot and in cold weather
Cupid and I must lie together.

Jup. No (sirrah) thou shalt lie with me,
For therefore did I spirit thee.

Gan. Why art not thou, poor little one,
Old enough yet to lie alone?

Jup. Yes; but there is a certain joy
In lying with a pretty Boy.

Gan. A pretty Boy! that's better yet,
What's Beauty, when one cannot see't?
When one is fast asleep (I wis)
One little cares for prettiness.

Jupit.

The Scoffer Scoff.

Jup. That's true; but dreams proceed from
Which are so tickling and so sweet.

Gan. But when I pig'd with mine own Da
I us'd to make him hopping mad,
Who as he lay abed would grumble,
That I did nought but tofs and tumble,
Talk in my sleep, and paw't, and kick
His sides and paunch so hard and thick,
He could not sleep one wink all night :
For which, so soon as e're 'twas light,
He pack'd me to my Mother duly.
Seeing then in bed I'm so unruly,
If thou didst only bring me hither
That thou and I might lie together,
Thou maist e'en set me down again,
For I shall certain be thy bane.

Jup. Why kick thy worst, my little Brat,
I like thee ne're the worse for that :
'Tis better far than lying still,
But I can kiss thee there my fill.

Gan. Why each one as he likes (you know
Quo'th' good man when he kiss'd his Cow.

You may do what you will, but I Shall sleep the while most certainly.

Jup. Well, well! for that as time shall try;
 In the mean time, you Mercury,
 Here take and make my pretty Page
 Drink the immortal Beverage,
 That after I may him prefer
 To be my chiefest Cup-bearer :
 But e're to wait you bring him up,
 First teach him to present the Cup.

WHY what a strange life dost thou
 Since thou hast got this Ganimede,
 I, who have been thy faithful Wife,
 Can't get a kiss to save my life;
 But thou dost look so strangely on me,
 As if till now thou ne're hadst known me.

Jup. What will not Wife thy jealous pate,
 To vex thy self and me, create?

Was

The Scoffer Scoff.

Was such a Jealousie e're known
 To that degree of frenzy grown,
 As to run supposition mad
 Of a poor silly harmless Lad!
 I thought none but the Female kind
 Could raise such whimsies in thy mind.

Ju. Nay faith thou'rt ex'lent at both trades,
 Both at thine Ingles, and thy Jades.
 And all my chiding's to no end;
 I think thou art too old to mend:
 Else, mauer thy bad inclination,
 Thou'dst tender more thy Reputation.
 Dos't fit the King of Gods, I pray,
 To Masquerade it every day,
 And to transform himself one while
 To Gold, a Virgin to beguile;
 Another while into a Bull,
 To make another Maid a Trull;
 And then into a Swan, to try
 The treading way of Letchery;
 And to put on all these strange shapes,
 In order to adultrous Rapes?

And yet for all thy pranks on Earth,
(Unfitting far thy place and birth)

Thou hitherto hast ever yet

Had either so much Grace, or Wit,
Manners, or Shame, or all together,
As not to bring thy Trollops hither,

As thou hast done this Dandiprat

For all the Gods to titter at :

And all under Pretence, the Youth
Must be your Cup-bearer forsooth ;

As all the Gods inhabit here

Unworthy of the Office were ;

As if my daughter Hebe was,

Or Vulcan weary of the place ;

Or any of the Gods indeed,

Might not perform it for a need.

And then, which more does vex me still,

He never does the Goblet fill,

And ready with it waiting stand,

But e're thou tak'st it at his hand,

Thou fall'st a kissing him 'fore all

The Gods in the Olympick-Hall ;

Which

Which thou dost too with so much passion,
 And after such immodest fashion,
 That the Boy's kisses one would think
 Were sweeter than the heavenly drink.
 Nay, thou full oft for drink dost call,
 When th'ast no list to drink at all,
 No more than thou hast need to piss,
 Only a meer pretence to kifs.
 Sometimes thou mak'st him drink to thee,
 A kind of slav'ring Letchery,
 Of which the meaning's only this,
 To place thy mouth where he did his,
 Which ravishes thee, whilst thou think'st
 Thou kissest all the while thou drink'st.
 'Twas a fine sight last day to see
 Thy little Catamite and thee
 Playing at Nine-pegs with such heat,
 That mighty Jupiter did sweat
 In Querpo, to th' beholders wonder,
 Divested of his Shield and Thunder.
 I both know all thy pranks and thee,
 Think not to make a fool of me.

Jup. Hey! whirr! I think our Dame's grown
 What harm's in kissing a fine Child, (wild!
 And adding that delight to Nectar,
 That I must have this Curtain-Lecture?
 If thou but tasted hadst the blisses
 Are wrapt up in his luscious kisses,
 Thou wouldst be of another mind,
 And not reproach me in this kind.

Jun. I thought that I should trap thee soon;
 Now thou speak'st perfect Bougeroon.
 I should have little wit (I trow)
 And very little vertue too,
 Should I defile my lips so much,
 As such an Urchin once to touch.

Jup. That Urchin thou dost so despise,
 And speak'st of in such taunting wise,
 Pleases me more (my haughty Dame)
 Than some Body I will not name.
 Urge me not to't, thou wer't not best,
 And cease my pleasure to contest.

Jun. Not I, I shall not be so rash :
 No, prithee marry thy Bardach.

To

The Scoffer Scott.

 But yet withal do not forget
 How thou dost use me on the score
 Of this thy little stripling Whore.

Jap. I know what 'tis, thou'dst have thy Crip
 Wait here, and fill me out my Tipple,
 When he comes with his dirty Golls
 From raking up his smutty Coals,
 Sweating and stinking from his Forge,
 Enough to make one to disgorge ;
 And in this cleanly plight, I know
 Thou fain wouldst have me kiss him too,
 Even when he does so nasty seem,
 That thou his Mother keck'st at him.
 It would be wisely done (no doubt)
 For such a foul unseemly Lout
 To put away my Ganimede,
 So sweet a Boy, so finely bred,
 And (which thy mind does more molest
 A hundred times than all the rest)
 Whose every delicious kiss
 Is sweeter far than Nectar is.

The Scoffer Scott.

Juno. I, I, my Son thou dost abhor,
Now thou hast this trim Servitor :
But till thou hadst this Skip-Jack got,
With Vulcan thou didst find no fault.
And all his collow, and his foot,
His dirt, and sweat, and stink to boot,
Not hindred, but thou took'st delight
Both in his service and his sight.

Jap. Thou dreadful Scold, thy disfurcease,
And (if thou canst) once hold thy peace.
Thy Jealousie does but improve
My indignation and my Love.
Let Vulcan serve thee as he did,
If thou dislikest Ganimede :
But hang me if I drink a sup,
Unless my Boy present the Cup -
Nay, at each draught, I'll tell thee more,
Best give me kisses half a score.
Come, come, my pretty Favourite,
Do not thou whimper for her spight :
Let who dares vex my Boy, thou'lt see,
I'll order 'em I warrant thee.

Juno and Jupiter.

Jun. NOW Jupiter that none is near us
To hearken, or to over-hear us,
Tell me, I prithee, and be clear,
What think'st thou of this Ixion here?

Jup. Why I think Ixion (wife) true-ble
An honest man as e're I knew;
A sturdy piece of flesh, and proper,
A merry Grig, and a true Toper.
Nor had I, but I thought him so,
Made so much on him as I do;
Neither, but that I understood
His company was very good,
Had I (be sure) been so affable
As to admit him to my Table.

Jun. See, see, how one may be deceiv'd!
'Tis odds I shall not be believ'd:
But Ixion is (without offence)
The sawciest piece of insolence

at ever came within thy doors,

 he now handled has the matter,
 can put his spoon into thy platter.
 et thou maist entertain him still,
 ly to gourmandize and swill :

* Because he kill'd his Father-in-law.

at, for my part, I'll ne're endure him ;
 or shall he stay here I'll assure him.

Jup. What has he done to move thee thus?

ome, prithee now be serious,
 and tell me true, nay quickly do it;
 or I am resolute to know it.

Jun. What has he done ! why 'tis so wicked that truly I'm asham'd to speak it.

Jup. What with some Goddeſs he'd have bin laying belike at In-and-Inn, and would be at the Rutting-sport ?
 or so thy words seem to import.

The Scoffer Scoff.

Jun. Well, and dost thou conceive that
 That thou dost make so light of it ?
 Is that no fault ? nay could he yet
 A Crime more capital commit ?
 That's it indeed, th'ast hit upon't,
 And greater still to make th'affront,
 No body else could serve the Youth,
 But even I my self, forsooth.
 I did not heed his Love at first,
 Not dreaming that the Rascal durst
 Have aim'd at me ; but at the last,
 Observing what Sheeps-eyes he cast,
 What sighs he fetch'd, how now and then
 He wept, and sigh'd, and wept agen,
 Drank after me, and then would leer,
 And kiss the Cup ; I then saw clear,
 Though ne're before I did suspect it,
 His folly was to me directed.
 Yet still I thought time would blow over
 This humour of my sawcy Lover ;
 Wherefore (tho vex'd) I thus long drove Asham'd I swear to tell thee of it ;

now at last the sawcy Ass
put on such a brazen face, without all respect to be bold as to solicit me.
now to speak 'tis more than time,
when to conceal it were a crime :
and therefore, flying from his tears,
and stopping with both hands both ears,
from being guilty auditors
of what my Virtue so abhors,
I trait came running unto thee
as fast as my legs would carry me,
to tell thee how this Goat, this Satyr,
this Rogue, this Slave, this Fornicator, whom thou hast entertain'd and fed,
attempts the honour of thy Bed,
so th'end thou maist the whelp chastise
in just and exemplary wise.

Jup. This is a daring Rogue, I swear, that attempt to cuckold Jupiter!
was the Nectar in his pate,
what did this insolence create :

But I my self, I must confess,
 Am cause of these miscarriages,
 By over-loving Mortals so
 Extravagantly as I do,
 And by permitting them to be
 Over-familiar, and too free
 With my Divinity and Me,
 He else had ne're attempted Thee.
 For 'tis no wonder, when they eat
 The very same provoking meat,
 And liquor drink the blood that fires,
 If they have then the same desires,
 And quite forgetting then their duties,
 Are smitten with immortal Beauties.
 Besides, thou know'st as well as I
 So much of Cupid's Tyranny,
 So great no Tyrant here above is,
 Near, as that little Bastard Love is.

Jun. He master is of thee indeed,
 And thee still by the nose does lead,
 (As the old saying is) and makes Thee play a thousand senseless freaks &

come, I faith, I faith, I know
That makes thee pity Ixion so :
To pardon him thou art inclin'd,
Cause he but pays thee in thy kind ;
Time was thou his wife didst dishonor,
And gatt'st Perithous upon her.

Jup. Fie, will that never be forgot ?
Come, I'll acquaint thee with my plot.
It would to banish him appear

A sentence somewhat too severe :
His being o're head and ears in love,
Does (I confess) my pity move.

Since therefore he's so woe-begon,
So sighs, and cries, and so takes on,
I tell thee plain, I do protest,

Things being thus, I think it best-----

Jun. What that I lie with him, I warrant !

Jup. Dost think I am a sot so errant ?

No, I'm not so kind to him neither ;

I prithee hold thy legs together :

That's more than will be well allow'd.

But I will dizen him a Cloud

The Scoffer Scoff,

So like to thee, as shall perswade him
 He has made me, what I have made him,
 And that in pure commiseration,
 In part to satisfie his passion.

Jun. Why, this will be for to reward him,
 For what thou shouldst at least discard him.

Jup. But speak in pure sincerity,
 What harm will this do thee or me?

Jun. Why he will think it me, that's flat,
 Then I shall pass for I know what.

Jup. No matter what's by him believ'd,
 'Tis only he will be deceiv'd;
 And if a Cloud like Thee I make,
 No *Jun*o 'tis, but a mistake,
 And he by this my pretty cheat
 A race of Centaurs shall beget.

Jun. But if (as now-a-days thou know'st Men are too apt to make their boast)
 This Rogue so soon as he has done,
 As they all do, should straightway run,
 And publish to the world, that he Has had his filthy will of me :

Pray

The Scoffer Scoff.

67

Pray after such a fine Oration,
Where then were Juno's reputation?

Jup. Should he do such a thing as that,
I'd teach the Rascal how to prate;
And if he needs must kiss and tell,
I'll kick him headlong into Hell,
Where to a wheel he shall be bound,
And, like a Mill-horse still turn round,
And never have a moments rest,
Nor thence shall ever be releast.

Jun. If he do prove so damn'd a Dog;
Twill be but Justice on the Rogue.

Vulcan and Apollo.

Ap. Good speed, of Fire thou sooty King,
I ever hear thy Anvil ring:
Thy smoak still mounts from Ætna-hill;
I think thy Bellows ne're lie still:
Surely it costs thee much in Leathers,
For thou dost blow and strike all weathers.

Vulc.

The Scoffer Scoff.

Vulc. Good-den Apollo, and well met,
 Hast seen the little Merc'ry yet,
 How fine a child, how sweet a face,
 And what a smiling count'nance 't has?
 Which plainly does (methinks) presage
 Something when he shall come to age,
 That is extraord'nary and great,
 Tho he is but an infant yet.

Apollo. A pretty infant questionless!
 Old Japhet's sire in wickedness.

Vulc. What harm can he have done, I trow,
 That came into the world but now?

Apollo. Go, and ask Neptune that, I pray,
 Whose Trident he hath stole away.
 Or Mars that question can decide,
 Whose Sword he pilfer'd from his side;
 To whom my self I too could joyn,
 Whose Bow and Shafts he did purloin.

Vulc. What such a nazardly Pigwiggins,
 A little Hang-strings in a Biggin?
 Away, away, Apollo flouts!
 What a Filou in swathing clouts?

Apollo.

Apollo. Well think so, but if this Filou
Come here, thou'lt see what he can do.

Vulc. H'as been already here to day.

Apollo. Well, and is nothing missing pray?

Vulc. Not that I know of.

Apollo. That may be ;
But prithee look about and see.

Vulc. I cannot see my Pincers tho.

Apol. O cry you mercy, can't you so ?
There's one cast of his office now.

Now dare I venture twenty pound
They'll be amongst his Trinkets found.

Vulc. Faith, and assure thy self I'll try ;
Is the young Thief indeed so sly ?
Such lucky Chucks there's so great need on,
We'll keep this hopeful Youth to breed on.
A precious Pepin, and a trim,
A right Arch-bird, I'll warrant him.
An Infant quotha ! marry hang him,
If he were mine, I would so bang him :
What were my Tongs so hot, I trow,
To stick to your small fingers so ?

The Scoffer Scoff.

I'll make a burn-mark with a T,
To fift you with, Sir Mercury.
But I'm astonish'd at the Lad,
How he so soon could learn his trade;
He learnt (to be a Rogue so pure)
To steal in's Mother's belly sure.

Apol. These are his recreations these;
But he has other Qualities.

Mark but that nimble tongue of his,
What a pert prating Urchin'tis:
His mouth will one day be a spout
Of Eloquence, without all doubt:
He'll be an Orator, I warrant,
And if he be not, let me hear on't:
And a prime Wrestler as e're tript,
E're gave the Cornish-hug, or hipt;
Or I am much mistaken in him;
And any one would say't had seen him:
For he already has at first
Put Monsieur Cupid to the worst,
And gave him such a dreadful fall,
I thought had broke his bones withal,

In

The Scoffer Scoff.

In troth I ne're saw such another,
But Love went puling to his Mother,
Which as the Gods were laughing at,
And Venus went to moan her Brat,
Whilst she was kissing the small Archer,
And drying's tears with Lawn handkercher,
In comes that crafty Youth, and fly,
That little filching Mercury,
And in a twinkling (I protest)
Whips me away her am'rous Cest,
Nay, and Jove's Thunder too had got,
But 'twas too heavy and too hot;
But yet his Scepter went to pot.

Vulc. By Jupiter a hardy Youth!

Apollo. Nay, he's a Minstrel too.

Vulc. In truth!

Apollo. Yes faith, a better never plaid;
Nay, and the little Rogue has made
A Fiddle of a Tortoise-shell,
On which he plays so rarely well,
That he puts fair to put down me,
Who am the God of Harmony.

His

The Droffer Scott.

He never sleeps a-nights she says;
But goes, for all that she can say,
As far as Hell to seek for prey ;
And he has got, by slight of hand,
A most incomparable Wand,
Of so strange virtue, that 'tis said
It with a waft does raise the dead,
And both the dead from Death can save,
And send the living to the Grave.

Vulc. Nay, nay, of that I must acquit him,
For I to play withal did gi't him.

Apol. That's well, and he in recompence
Has stolln away thy Pincers hence.

Vulc. S'nigs, well remembred! I'll be gone
To search his corners for my own :
And if I find 'em in his Cradle,
Take it from me his sides I'll swaddle.

Vulcan and Jupiter.

Here, I have brought thee home a Hatchet,
 If any Smith for temper match it,
 Or edge, I'll say no more but so,
 I'll ne're strike stroke more whilst I blow.
 And now 'tis here new from the Smithy,
 What must we do with it, I prithee?

Jup. Why cleave my head in two with it.

Vul. How, cleave thy head! the Deel a bit,
 Thou saist so but to try my wit.
 But tell me quickly, prithee do,
 What use thou'lt have it put unto?
 For I Sob's Coach-horse's must shoe.

Jup. Why for to cleave my head in two.
 I am in earnest, therefore do it,
 Or (thou lame Rascal) thou shalt rue it;
 And if thou be'st so shie of mine,
 Beware that great Calves-head of thine:

Fear

The Scoffer Scoff.

Fear not, but strike with might and main,
 For my Scalp splits with very pain,
 And I do suffer all the Throes
 A woman in her Labour does.

Vulc. In Labour quotha ! 't may be so ;
 But let's consider what we do ;
 For I'm afraid I hardly shou'd
 Lay thee as Dame Lucina wou'd.

Jup. Wilt thou leave prating (sirrah) once,
 Lest I make bold with thy wise sponce :
 Do thou but strike courageously,
 And home, and leave the rest to me.

Vulc. Why, Jupiter, if thee I kill,
 Bear witness 'tis against my will :
 There is no help, I must obey,
 Have at thy Coxcomb then I say ;
 For with this Butchers blow of mine
 I'll cleave thee down unto the Chine.
Good Gods ! no wonder if thy brains
 Suffer'd intollerable pains,
 When such a lusty strapping Trull
 As this lay kicking in thy skull.

Nay,

ay, and an Amazon to boot,
Which though not arm'd from head to foot,
Is furnish'd yet to take the field,
And has both Helmet, Launce, and Shield.

so: Twas breeding this brave Lads belike,
Made thee so cross and cholerick,
And yet the Girl (I vow and swear)
Is most incomparably fair:

once, Prithee, for having laid thee well;
Give me her for my Dowsabel;
For though new-born, the Wench is able,
And I'll uphold her marriageable.

Jup. With all my heart I give her free;
But thou'lt ne're make her marry thee:
For she will never be a Wife,
But live a Virgin all her life.

Therefore ne're offer to perswade her;
For thou art sure to lose thy labour.

Vulc. Well, well, for that let me alone;
I'll make her coming ten to one;
I have been in my days a blade
At winning of a pretty Maid,

Nay, F And

And can bring this to my command,
As easily as kiss my hand,
 Provided I have thy consent.

Jup. Why thou mayst try, but thou'lt repent.

DIALOGUE.

Neptune and Mercury.

Nept. HArk, Cofin Mercury, do'st hear,
 Could not one speak with Jupiter?

Merc. No, save thy labour, and be gone,
 Hee's busie, and will speak with none.

Nept. But prithee, let him know 'tis I.

Merc. I tell thee hee'l see no body,
 And therefore prithee go thy way;
 For hee'l be seen of none to day.

Nept. Are he and's wife, if one may axe,
 Making the beast with the two backs?

Merc. Could'st thou no other question find
 They two but seldom are so kind.

Nept. Then Ganymede and hee'r together.

Merc. No truly Signior Neptune neither.

Nept. What then? I le know spite of thy nose.

Merc. You'l ask me leave first I suppose.

Nept. Hee's not well, will that suffice?

Nept. Not well! where is it his grief lies?

Merc. Why I me a sham'd to tell thee where.

Nept. What a * Relation so near!

* Brother to Jupiter,

Nept. I leave fooling (Coz) I prethee now, and tell me; for I long to know.

Merc. Why, since I see thoult not be sed, know, that hee's newly brought to bed.

Nept. How! this is monstrous by this light!

What is he an Hermaphrodite?

Nept. We're perceiv'd his Belly rise above the ordinary size.

Merc. That's likely; neither, I must tell ye;

was he deliver'd from his Belly.

Nept. From what part then? was't from his head, or when he his Minerva bred?

Nept. That deliver'd once again?

Nept. He has a wondrous fruitful brain.

Merc. No this birth issu'd from his Thigh.

Nept. Go sirrah, now I know you lye.

The Scoffer Scoff.

What wouldst thou have me such a Noddy
To think he Spawns all o're his Body.

Merc. Well, but there is more in't than so,
And thou the truth of all shalt know.

Juno, whose spiteful Jealousie
Thou know'st I'me sure as well as I,
In malice, Semele perswades
(One of his best beloved Jades)

Since Jupiter did her so honour,
As Children to beget upon her :

She so much kindness had for her,
That she no longer should incur
A Common Lemman's imputation :

But for her better reputation,
No more with him in private lye :
But make him own her publickly.

Therefore my Semele (quoth she)
Prethee for once be rul'd by me,
And if he have true kindness for yee,
Make him come next in all his glory,
Not sneaking in a mean disguise
Like Rogues to midnight Letheries :

The Scoffer Scott.

Noddy like himself roab'd round with wonder
ly. and with this Lightning and his Thunder :
an so, all will honor and adore thee,
ho now despise thee, and abhor thee,
The Girl thus tickled in her Ear,
and proud her self as Lucifer,
order'd it with this great King,
Whom Whores can make do any thing,
that he came next in this attire :
er then before he could come nigh her
Lightning set the Room on fire,
and with its all consuming flashes,
duc'd the Room and House to ashes.
which case, all that we could do
as but to save the Embrio :
er she was then with Child, be't known,
(Jupiter, and seven Months gone) which ripping from her Belly, I warm into thy Brothers thigh,
ere to compleat the term requir'd;
which being but just now expir'd,
s brought to Bed, and truth to speak,

The Scoffer Scoff.

With his hard labour very weak.

Nept. And where is this same twice-born child?

Merc. To Nysa I have carri'd it,

By the Nymphs there to be brought up,

Who knowing he will be given t'th' Cups,

And in hard drinking very vitious,

* Διόνυσος. Have aptly Nam'd him * Dionysus.

σθ.

Nept. Then of this Child hee's Syre and Dad

And it may call him Dad and Mam?

Merc. Yes truly it is even so,

He any of these may answer to :

But I can't stay to tell thee more ;

For I should have been gone before,

And in this stay have done amiss

To prate at such a time as this.

I now must use both heels and wings,

Water to fetch, and other things

For Child-bed-women, and had need

Repair my negligence with speed :

All the good wives else will me blame,

For now I the Man-midwife am.

DIALOGUE

DIALOGUE.

Mercury and the Sun.

Merc. Jove (Sol) commands thee by me here
 To stop thy Steeds in their Careere,
 For the full space of three whole days
 He will not have thee shine, he says :
 But thou art to conceal thy light,
 For he will have that term all night.
 Therefore I think thy best Course is,
 To let the Hours unteam thy Horses,
 Get a good Night-cap on thy Head,
 Put out thy Torch, and go to Bed.

Sol. 'Tis an extravagant Command,
 And that I do not understand.
 What I have done, I fain would know,
 That Jupiter should use me so ?
 What fault committed in my place
 To pull upon me this disgrace ?
 Have I not ever kept my Horse;
 In the precincts of their due Course ;

Or, though twelve Inns are in my way,
 Did I e're drink, or stop, or stay?
 Bear witness all the Gods in Heav'n
 If I've not duly Morn, and Even,
 Risen, and set, and care did take
 To keep touch with the Almanack,
 What then my fault is, I confess,
 If I should dye, I cannot guess:
 And why he should, much less I know.
 Suspend me ab officio.

It sure must be a great offence
 Deserves the worst of punishments,
 As this is he on me doth lay,
 That Night must triumph over Day:

Merc. Fie, what a clutter dost thou make,
 And all about a meer mistake:
 Thou talk'st of anger and disgrace,
 There's no such matter in the case.
 Thou wide art of his meaning quite,
 He bids thee to withdraw thy light,
 That for three days it may not shine
 In order to a great design

He

The Scollar Scott.

He has that won't endure the Sun,
But is by Owl-light to be done.

Sol. Faith tell me that design of his,
What he's about, and where he is.

Merc. I'll tell thee, if thou needs will know,
He's Cuckolding Amphytrio.

Sol. 'Tis very fine, and won't one Night
Take the edge off his Appetite?

Cannot one Night give him enough?

Is the old Letcher still so tough,

A Swinge-bow of so high renown,

A Wench can't sooner take him down?

Merc. No, but he means to get of her

A very mighty Man of War,

Of heart most stout, and limbs most vast,

Which is not to be done in hast:

But of another kind of fashion,

Then ev'ry common Generation.

Sol. Why let him lay about him then

To finish this great Man of Men:

But let me tell thee, these strange ways

Were not in use in Saturn's days.

He

He ne're left Rhea in his life
 To letcher with anothers wife :
 But for one Whore now (which is scurvy)
 All things must turn'd be topsy-turvy.
 In the mean time 'tis ten to one
 My horses will be Resty grown,
 For want of use, and thorns I know
 In my Carere will spring, and grow ;
 And Mankind must in darkness languish
 Whilst he his bawdy Launce does brandish,
 And stews himself in his own grease,
 To get this admirable piece.
Merc. Peace, peace, friend Sol, no more of that;
 Least he do teach thee how to prate.
 In the mean time I must be gone
 With the same message to the Moon,
 To keep within, and vail her face,
 As many Nights, as thou dost Days.
 My last Commission is to Sleep,
 That Mortal's eyes he so long keep Seal'd up in rest, and all the while
 Feed them with Dreams, time to beguile,

That

That when thy light unseals their eyes,
(And then it will be time to rise)
They may when that day does begin,
Not know how long a night 't has been.

 Nor would he understand thy passion
 At all to be an Obligation.

Luna. Why 'tis that Nere-be-good thy Son,
 Has made me do what I have done.

Venus. I, hang him little Gallow-strings,
 He does a thousand of these things,
 And well may do it to another,
 That spares not me who am his Mother.

 Staring and gazing in his face,
 When coming weary from the Chace,
 His Mantle he on ground does spread,
 And falls asleep, leaning his head
 On his right arm, which does embrace,
 Being twin'd about his head, his face,
 Whilst from his left his Arrows all,
 Do dropping negligently fall.
 Then stealing, and on Tip-toe too,
 As folks to make less noise still do;
 For fear of waking him; I there
 Perceive his breath perfume the Air,
 And in soft breathings yield a sent
 So ravishing, and redolent,
 That I am forc't to sit down by him
 And sigh, and kiss, and kissing eye-him;
 When sitting thus, and sometimes stealing

A little little touch of feeling,
 Whil'st I still gaz'd upon his face,
 It tingles in a certain place
 To that degree, that I protest-----
 I know thou can'st guess the rest,
 As having in thy self made proof.

 And even ready to expire.

 And thus to make a poor old Trot
 Fly raging up and down (I wot)
 Set in her Chariot drawn with Lyons,
 And bidding Gravity defiance,
 As if she were stark staring mad,
 After a Scurvy-shit-breech Lad,
 And even of Stocks, and Stones enquire
 Of Atys, her small Apple-squire,
 Is such a thing (my graceless Son)
 As certainly was never done.
 Nor in her inquisition,
 Does she yet play the fool alone ;
 But which is a most gross mistake,
 And does her shame more publick make,
 She does ev'n here her State maintain,
 And goes with all her Jugling Train
 Of Corybantes at her heels,
 Who as their brains were set on wheels,
 Disperse themselves all over Ide,
 Whooping aloud on every side

(Nowiser than their mad old Dame)
 Calling and whooping Atys Name.
 Where some in fury are so woo'd,
 As with one arm t'let t'other blood,
 Some weep in blood, and some in tears,
 Some with their hair about their ears
 Run headlong down the Precipices,
 Enough to dash themselves in peices.
 One winds a Horn with mighty labour,
 Another thumbs it on a Tabor,
 Another a brass-paw employs,
 Others use Cymbals, Shaumes, Hoboys }
 Or any thing will make a noise. }
 With which they make that hideous din,
 That the whole Mountain ring's agin.
 Nay so obstreperous they are,
 And make that dismal Tintamare,
 What with their yelling, and their tink'ing,
 That unto any Mortal's thinking,
 Hell is broke loose, it sounds so odd,
 And all the Devils got abroad.
 Which makes me fear for these offences,
 If ere th'old Hagg to her own Sences

The Scoffer Scott.

Return again, she will on thee
 Direly revenge this Roguery,
 And either without Form or fury,
 Presently kill thee in her fury,
 Or else unto her Lyons throw,
 Or Priests, the fiercer of the two.
Ch. Your care's worth thanks, but truly Mother,
 I neither fear the one, nor th'other ;
 For her Priests fury I not weigh't,
 They all are too effeminate ;
 Nor of her Lyons fearful am ;
 For those already I've made tame,
 So tame, that often I astride
 A cock-horse on their backs do ride,
 Spur 'em, and by their shaggy mains,
 Guide 'em as easie as with reins,
 Play with their beards, their lips, their paws
 Make 'em extend their crooked claws,
 Nay, thrust into their mouths my fist,
 And do with 'em e'en what my list.
 And then for Rhea, Mother she Too busie is, I warrant ye,
 About her Love to think of me.

But after all this scolding now,
Mother, I very fain would know,
 Wherein I've done so much amiss,
 When all I've done's but only this,
 To make that lov'd that lovely is.
 Which why it should be thus resented,
 I know not; would you be contented
 To have Mars cur'd (faith now tell true)
 O'th' passion that he has for you?

Venus. That thou art a malicious Brat,
 To say so damn'd a thing as that;
 But, Sirrah, one day possibly,
 Thou'll think of what I've said to thee.

DIALOGUE.

Hercules, Æsculapius, and Jupiter.

Why what Sir's, are you both stark mad!

Is there no reverence to be had?

Do you not both asham'd to brawl,

To make this bustle in the Hall,

Together thus by th' Ears to fall

Like Regues, and one another maul

With

The Scoffer Scott.

With Pots and Juggs, and all things shuffle,
 As you were at a Counter-scuffle?
 D'ee make an Ale-house of my House!
 If I reach one of ye a Douse
 You'l learn more manners, than to brabble,
 And make an uproar at my Table.

Herc. Is it fit, Father, that this Jack,
 This paltry Mountebancking Quack,
 This Siringe, Glistepipe before ye,
 This Leech, this vile Suppository,
 This son of twenty thousand Fathers,
 This pack of Galley-pots and Bladders,
 Before this heav'nly Company
 Should offer to take place of me?

Æculap. Sirrah, my noble Art disdains
 All these abominable names
 Thou vomits forth so fluently;
 Nor does the Quack belong to me;
 Thy Mountebanck, I do disclaim,
 It my profession can't defame,
 No Hocus nor no Leech I am;
 But the renowned God of Phy-sick,
 Who cure my Patients when they lye-sick.

The Scoffer Scott.

Thy better (Russian) in desert ;
Or his, whoever takes thy part.

Herc. In what (Imposter) would'st thou be Thought the advantage to've of me ?
It is because a Thunder-clap
Gave that Calves-head of thine a rap,
A due reward for the desert
Of thy vast knowledg and great Art ?
For (Master Doctor) in pure pity
Great Jove did only here admit ye.

Aescul. It does become thee well, I faith,
Thus to reproach me with my death,
Having thy self without Reprieve
On Oetas top been burnt alive
For an example unto all,
Like a notorious Criminal.

Herc. But that was voluntary yet,
After I had with labour great
(Since my own acts I must rehearse)
Of Monsters purg'd the Universe.
But what hast thou done for thy part,
With all thy so much boasted Art,

But Emp'rick like, impos'd thy cheats,
By vertue of some stol'n receipts,
Which, set off with a brazen face,
Perhaps at Country Fairs might pass ?

Æscul. Thou say'st well, for 'twas I applyd
The Urguent to thy roasted Hide,
When thou cam'st hither (Captain Swasber)
Scorch't like a Herring, or a Rasber,
Sing'd like a Hog (foh ! thou stink'st still)
And spitch-cock't like a salted Eele :
But I, like thee, have never bin
Prentice t'a Whore to learn to spin,
A little domineering Trull
That made the big-bond Booby pull
Course Hempen-Hurds, flaver, and twine
A thread, no doubt, as Cart-rope fine ;
And when the aukward Cluster-fist,
(As he did oft) his Lesson mis'st,
And broke a thred, then you might se'r
Take him a whirret on the Ear,
Calling him Dunce, and Logger-head,
Whilst the rall Souldier quak't for dread.

The Crofter Croft.

Nor (Sirrah Sawce-box) dost thou hear,
ne're was yet the murtherer
Of my own wife, nor yet did I
Ere slaughter my own Progeny,
Who Innocents could none provoke ;
As thou hast, to thy praise be't spoke.

H.'Twere good thou leftst thy prating (Farrier)
And quickly too, or this tall warrier,
Whom thou so seemest to despise,
Will kick thee headlong from the Skies,
And make thee from the Chrystal Vault
Take such a dainty Somer-fault,
That when thou comest to the ground,
Thy neck I doubt will scarce be found.
Thou then maist try thy skill in vain,
And strive to set it right again,
When all thy art will never do't,
Physick, and Chyrurgery to boot.

Æs. Thou kick me down, thou vap'ring scab!
Thou kists the But-end of a Drab.
Thou spinn'st already, and shalt feel
I have a fist will teach thee reel.

Let's

The Scoffer Scott.

Let's have fair play, and make a Round,
I'll cuff with thee for twenty pound :
Or I will meet thee where thou wo't,
Either with Seconds, or without,
With any weapon thou dost like
Betwixt a Bodkin and a Pike,
Where I will pay thee thy desert :
And (thou great Lubber) tho thou art
A pretty fellow with thy Club,
I will thy Lions skin so drub,
If once thou dar'st to bide me battle,
Thy bones shall underneath it rattle.

Jup. Basta! no more you wrangling Tards,
Give o're these Coster-mongers words,
Or I protest (which I am loth)
I'll by the shoulders thrust you both
Out of my Hall, and eke my doors,
And pack you down 'mongst Oyster-whores,
Porters, and Tripe-women, to prate,
And cuff it out at Billingsgate.
But first I the dispute will end,
For which so sweetly you contend.

The Scoffer Scott.

122

Now then (my brace of ill-bred Huffers)
You pair of brawling drunken Cuffers,
You neither of you here have place,
Nor meerly of my special grace;
And therefore two great Coxcombs are Here to begin a Civil-war,
And for a thing to keep ado
Yave neither of you title to.
But henceforth (ye unmanner'd Asses)
That you may know your worships places,
And no more such a rumble keep,
I'll have it go by Eldership;
And as the Doctor older is,
So the precedence shall be his.

DIA

DIALOGUE.

Mercury and Apollo.

Merc. A Pollo, what's the matter pray
You look so mustily to day ?

Apollo. Why never any, certainly,
Was yet so crost in love as I ;
And any else I think would die of Half the mischievous luck that I have.

M. Hast thou new cause with Fate to quarrel
Since Daphne turn'd was to a Laurel ?

Apol. Oh yes, yes, yes, my honest friend,
My Hyacinthus timeless end.

Merc. Who of his murther was the author ?

Apol. My self am guilty of the slaughter.

Merc. What didst thou do it in thy fury ?
Thou'rt passionate.

Apol. No, I assure ye,
The passion I had for that Creature
Was of another sort of nature ;

But playing with the Boy at Mall,
True the time, and ever shall)
E. I struck the Ball, I know not how,
For that is not the play you know)
A pretty height into the air,
When Zephrus (who't seems was there)
And long (as thou thy self hast seen)
Has jealous of our friendship been,
Beat down the Ball, without remorse,
With such a most confounded force,
And gave his head so damn'd a thumm,
As breaking Pericranium,
Scalp, Dura, and eke Pia Mater,
His Brains came poppling out like water,
And the Boy dy'd so prettily,
Twould e'en have done one good to see,
I presently pursu'd the Traytor,
I have been reveng'd; but no such matter,
I nockt an arrow to have shot him,
But he soon out of distance got him.
Besides, although in a long Bow
I shoot as well as most I know,

Yet

Yet (like a Dunce) I ne're could yet
 The knack of shooting flying get.
 He was too swift, and I too slow
 To overtake the wind I trow.
 So, seeing then the bloody slave
 Got into Æolus his Cave,
 I back to my departed Joy,
 Where taking up the lovely Boy,
 I honourably brought him home,
 And built him a most stately Tomb,
 Where my Amours and He for ever
 Are buried, and entomb'd together.
 And yet, my Sweet-heart to survive,
 And keep my comfort still alive,
 I from his blood have caus'd to spring
 A Flower, the prettiest baubling thing
 For beauty, and for sweetness too,
 On the Earth's womb that ever grew :
 Which also in its foliage wears
 Some Hieroglyphick Characters,
 Whose sence in mystick figures bears
 The story of my sighs and tears;

And yet, alas ! for all I strive
My rooted sorrow to deceive,
By all the most diverting ways,
I must lament him all my days.

Merc. Then, friend Apollo, thou art not
The God of Wisdom, but a Sor :
For those who will descend so far
As to love things that mortal are,
Must for events like these prepare.
Mortals to Fate are subject all,
Who sooner must, or later fall ;
And the word Mortal does imply
That they are only born to die.

DIA-

DIALOGUE

Apollo and Mercury.

Me.^s TIs a strange thing methinks, Apollo,
That this foul Thief all smutch
(with colloy,

This Vulcan, this old limping Rogue,
This nasty, swarthy, ill-look'd Dog,
Should have the luck to marry these
So fair, so handsome Goddesses.

Nay more (which makes me hate the Slave)

The very fairest that we have :

Nor can it sink into my pate

How they can hug so foul a Mate ;

Or when from's forge he comes at night,

In that same nasty stinking plight,

All soot and sweat, so black and grim,

How they can go to bed to him :

Or rather not abhor, and fear him,

And even vomit to come near him.

Apollo

Apol. Why 'tis a wonder certainly
To ev'ry one, especially
One so unfortunate as I.

Who though (I speak sans vanity)
I'm something better made than he,
Not to say more, nevertheless
Despair of so much happiness.

Merc. It to much purpose is for thee
To boast thy Form, and Harmony :
These Cattle care not of a fig,
For thy fine frizl'd Perewig,
Nor thy well playing of a Fig.
As little would it profit me

To brag of my activity ;
That I can wrestle, leap, and run,
And sell a Rogue with my Bartoon.
Nor better favour should I gain
By shewing them Leger-demain.
No, no ! I see these are not arts
To conquer the Madona's hearts ;
And we at Bed-time, when all's done,
Shall find that we must lie alone :

H

Whilst

The Scoffer Scott.

Whilst a Mechanick Cripple here,
 (Who doubtless does a Vizer wear ;
 Or has the worst of all ill faces)
 Is towing Venus, and the Graces.

Apol. Thy fortune yet's not quite so bad:
 Thou some luck in thy life hast had.
 Thou something hast to brag on yet,
 One fit with Venus thou wast great ;
 When from your mutual delight
 There sprang a rare Hermophrodite :
 But of two persons I ador'd,
 The one my love so much abhorr'd,
 That rather than she'd suffer me,
 She would be turn'd into a Tree ;
 And th'other to my flame more true,
 I most unfortunately slew.
 But tell me how these handsom Lasses,
 Thy Mistress Venus, and the Graces,
 Can possibly so well agree,
 And live together quietly ?
 How comes it neither jealous are,
Venus of Them, nor they of Her ?

Merc

Me. That's nothing strange where no great Besides, fair Venus oft above is (love is.
Passing her time most jocundly
In Heav'n, with better Company.

bad: While th'other are constrain'd the while
To stay with him in Lemnos Isle.
And little wanton Venus cares
Who with her in the Black-Smith shares;
She finer fellows has than he
To help to do his Drudgery.

Mars and She (Jove forgive 'em for't)
Have now and then a night of sport,
A Youth of other kind of mettle,
Than that old outside of a Kettle?

Ap. But dost thou think Vulcan does dream
That Captain Swash does Cuckold him?

Mer. Nay faith he knows it well enough;
But he so dreads that man of Buff,
That whatsoe're he sees or hears,
He dares not mutter for his ears.
Besides thou know'st, and oft hast seen't,
How monstrous rude and insolent

Mer

The Scoffer Scoff.

These huffing angry boys of War
With pitiful Mechanicks are.

Ap. Well, but I'm told the Hob-nail-maker
Is plotting for all that to take her,
And is contriving a strange Gin
To trap Her and her Bravo in.

Merc. I can say nothing as to that,
But (betwixt friends) I'll tell thee what,
So her Bumfiddle I had clapt,
I'd be contented to be trapt.

D I A L O G U E.

Juno and Latona.

Ju. IN truth (Latona) thou dost bear
Such lovely Brats to Jupiter,
That I have thought it pity often
They were not lawfully begotten.

Lat. They like their other neighbours are,
Not over-foul, nor over-fair;
They pretty passable are though,
(Thank Jove) the Children are so so :

The Scoffer Scoff.

YII

But each one must not think to bear
So fine a piece as Mulciber.

Juno. I understand thee well enough,
Peer on, my back is broad enough :

Vulcan is not so finely drest

As Don Apollo, 'tis confest ;

Yet Venus (though he's not so trim)

Found in her heart to marry him.

And if the Artizan be lame,

We are for that mischance to blame,

For ev'ry one knows how it came.

But though a Cripple in his feet,

His hands do recompence it yet,

For better workman never smote

With hammer whilst the Ir'n was hot.

'Tis he embellish'd has the Skies

With all those pretty twinkling eyes :

'Tis he alone can undertake

Jupiters Thunder-bolts to make ;

Nay all the Deities beside

Are from his industry supply'd,

And he's put to't so to find wares

To furnish all his Customers,

H 3

That

The Scoffer Scott.

That oftentimes constrain'd they are
 To beg, intreat, and speake him fair
 To get him make their Iron-ware.
 They all are bound t'him (on my word)
Mars for his Cuirace, Shield, and Sword,
 The blustering Æol for his Bident,
 And Neptune for his massy Trident,
Ceres for Sickles, Pan for Crooks,
Pomona for her Pruning-hooks,
Priapus for his Grafting-knives,
 And Sir Prometheus for his Gieves.
 Nay hold! I have not yet half done,
 He's Smith and Farrier to the Sun,
 Does th'Iron-work his Chariot needs,
Shoes, bloods, and drenches both his Steeds:
 Of which the one the other day
 He of a Gravel cur'd, they say,
 And t'other of a Fistula.
 Nay, a new pair of wheels are made,
 (The old ones being much decay'd)
 For which he makes such lasting Tire,
 As all the Black-Smiths do admire:

Bushes the Naves, clouts th' Axle-trees,
And twenty finer things than these.
The Goddesses are fain to woe him,
And come to be beholding to him.
To make their Needles and their Shears,
And those fine Pattens his wife wears
Are of his making too she swears.
By which it evident appears,
He's best at any iron thing
That ever made an Anvil ring.
But that great ramping Fufs, thy Daughter,
A mankind Trull, inur'd to slaughter,
To the soft Sex's foul disgrace,
Rambles about from place to place,
And even as far as Scythia ranges,
Where Murther she for Love exchanges,
And without sense, grace, or good manners,
Butchers her courteous entertainers.
In this more fierce and cruel far
Than the most bloody Scythians are.
And then thy Son, that hopeful piece,
Apollo, Jack-of-all-Trades is:

The Scoffer Scoff.

Of many Arts (forsooth) he's Master,
 An Archer, Fidler, Poetaster,
 A kind of Satt'in-banco too,
 Who thorough Provinces does go,
 And kills cum privilegio.

Nay, he pretends to more than this,
 He sets up Oracle-shops in Greece,
 At Delphos, Didyma, and Claros,
 To each of which he hath a Ware-house
 Stuft full of Lies, for great and small,
 To gull poor silly Souls withal.

Yet so that all his fustian fictions,
 (Which he pretends to be Predictions)
 Though ev'ry one of them a Lie,
 Are couch'd so wondrous cunningly,
 That howsoe're things come about,
He has a back-door to get out.

In the mean time the world abounding
 With Puppies (that it seems scap'd drowning)
 By these Impostures, and damn'd Cheats,
 Of fools he store of money gets :
 But yet the wise too well do know
 Hischeats, to part with money so;

They

They find his skill in Prophecy,
 Who was so wise not to foresee
 That he one day against his will
 Should his dear Hyacinthus kill ;
 Nor that fair Daphne, his coy Miss,
 Would never like that face of his,
 For all he wears his beard so sprig,
 And has a fine Gold Perrewig.
 I wonder then that thou shouldst be Preferr'd thus before Niobe ;
 Or that thy Issue should be thought
 Fairer than those that she hath brought.

La: Come, come, thy spite and malice few Better than I do, Madam Juno ! (know

I know, but care not of a chip,
Where the shoe wrings your Ladiship.

Thou'rt vext unto the heart (I trow)

To see my Children triumph so,
 And shine in Heaven as they do,

And that they celebrated are,

The one for beautiful and fair,

And th'other for his skill so rare

Oth' Harp, Theorbo, and Guitarre.

Juno.

The Scoffer Scott.

Ju. What senseless things fond mothers are!
 Thou mak'st me laugh, I vow and swear,
 To think thy Son thou shouldst maintain
 To be a good Musitian :
 That miserable Harper, who
 For raking his vile Gridiron so,
 Instead of Marfias had been flead,
 And had his skin stript o're his head,
 Had not the Nine corrupted Wenches
 Giv'n sentence 'gainst their Consciences,
 As for thy Daughters mighty grace,
 With her pale, full-moon, platter-face,
 She such a very lovely piece is,
Actæon was pull'd all to pieces
 By his own Hounds (ill-manner'd Curs,
 Who did like Dogs, but th' fault was hers)
 'Tis said for having seen her naked ;
 But who think that was all, mistake it :
 For I can tell 'em in their ear,
 She made them worry him for fear
 He should tell tales, and blaze a story
 (She knew must needs be detractory)

The Scoffer Scoff.

117

Of what a filthy fulsom Quean
He bathing had stark naked seen.
For the Virgtnity (forsooth)
She brags of, is a gross untruth ;
Alas ! a meer pretence, and what
All women needs must titter at :
For she could never, if a Maid,
Practise so well the Midwifes Trade,
And be so skill'd in that affair,
Without experience, we may swear ;
And therefore she has had her share
Of doing too, I warrant her.

Lat. Well (Juno) well, I must dispense
With this thy railing insolence,
And she who is in Bed and Throne
Great Jupiter's Companion,
May say her will to any one.
Or else my haughty Dame, I wis,
Thou durst not talk such stuff as this.
Thou sett'st thy Tippet wondrous high,
And rant'st, there is no coming nigh ;
See what a goodly port she bears,
Making the pot with the two ears !

But

The Scoffer Scoff.

But yet e're long, I hold a groat
 That we shall hear thee change thy note.
 This pride will have a fall, no doubt,
 And we shall see thee lour and pout,
 And your insulting Majesty
 Tame as a Lamb, sit down, and cry,
 When wounded with some mortal beauty,
 Your Good-man shall forget his duty,
 And go to Court her at th'expende
 Of Juno's due benevolence.

D I A L O G U E.

Apollo and Mercury.

Ap. WHY how now (Signior Mercury)
 Y'are wonderfully rapt I see!

What is it makes your Worship pray
 So merry about the mouth to day?

Merc. Why, to see that that I have seen
 Would make a Dog to break his spleen;
 A sight (Apollo) that would make
 Thy heart-strings too with laughing crack.

Apollo.

Apol. Govern thy mirth a while, at least
So long that I may hear the jest;
So long that braying laughter spare,
That I in turn may laugh my share.

Merc. Why our brave Cavaliero Mars
(For laughing I can tell the scarce,
The jest so pretty and so odd is)
Is napping ta'n with Beauties Goddess.

Ap. How ta'n! I prithee now be plainer,
When, doing what, after what manner?

Me. Just now, whilst Smug was Oxen shoing,
And (in plain terms) at down-right doing,
The manner thus: you are to know----
Oh I could die with laughing now!

Ap. Thou titt'ring Calf I prithee cease,
And either speak, or hold thy peace.

Me. Why then be't known to all good-fellows
That Vulcan having long been jealous
Of an intrigue 'twixt his fair Bride
And this same huffing Iron-side,
It having held on many a year,
The smoaky Limps did more than fear

He

The Scoffer Scoff.

He had through Venus water-gap
 Stuck a Bull's-feather in his Cap ;
 Which long has made him eye & watch him,
 Hoping to find a time to catch him.
 He to this purpose then had set
 About his Bed so rare a Net,
 Made of so small, but holding wire,
 (Wherein his art we all admire).
 As without very special heed
 Was hardly to be seen indeed ;
 Which having unperceived laid,
 He careless went about his Trade :
 But scarcely was he gone an Acre,
 When in slips Captain Cuckold-maker,
 And whips me into Bed to's wife,
 Where whilst she whistled on the Fife,
 He beat (oh never such a Drum !)
 A point of war upon her bum.
 Now as they thus, with pleasing labor,
 Did jump and jig to Pipe and Tabor,
 Playing in consort, and time keeping,
 The Sun, who ever must be peeping,

When

When she, cocksure, thought none was nigh 'em,
Thorough the glass had luck to spy 'em;
Which having done, away he goes,
And, out of Envy, I suppose
(Of that methinks it rankly favours)
Tells me lame Vulcan strait, that Mavors
Whilst he at work did sweat and swelter,
Was thundring Venus Helter-skelter.
At which, the God with smutty face
Starting, as if to run a race,
Throws down his tools, fans more ado,
And tript it with his Patten-shoe
Sonimbly, that (to make it short)
He comes i'th' middle of their sport,
And like a cunning old Trepanner
Took the poor Lovers in the manner,
And there, as one would take a Lark,
Trap't the fair Madam and her Spark.
Venus confounded, you must think,
Chopt down her hand to hide her Chink.
Mars tardy ta'n, at first did fret,
Struggled, and flutter'd in the Net;

And

[The Scoffer Scoffs.]

And strongly did about him lay,
 Thinking by force to make his way;
 When finding 'twas beyond his strefs,
 He e'en was fain to acquiesce,
 (For striving made him but more fast)
 And to entreaties fell at last.
 But fair words Vulcan little heeded:
 He then to menaces proceeded,
 Making a kind of mixt Oration,
 Half Kill and Slay, half Supplication.

Apollo. 'Tis very pleasant faith! and so
Vulcan (I warrant) let him go.

Merc. So far from that, that without shame
 Civil regard to his wives fame,
 Or any sense on's own disgrace,
 He all the Gods unto the place
 Very judiciously has brought,
 To shew them what fine Fish h'as caught;
 Where now they are, and all become Spectators of his Cuckoldom.
 In the mean time the loving pair,
 Seeing themselves thus caught i' th' Snare,

Hang

Hang down their heads, & with flames wing
 For want of other covering)
 As bashful blushes do exprels
 They fain would hide their nakedness.

Apollo. But all this while is Dirty-face
 So stupid, and so damn'd an Ass,
 As not to blush in such a case,
 At publishing his own disgrace?

Merc. Who he? why he of all the rest
 Is the most ravish'd with the Jest,
 And blushes no where does disclose,
 But (where he always does) in's Nose:
 Yet, though the sight be but unseemly,
 I envy this same Mars extremely:
 To be surpriz'd in bed with her
 Who is of Goddesses the Star,
 With whom no other can compare,
 For sweetly, excellently fair,
 Believ't Apollo, is most rare!

And then to be ty'd to her too
 With bonds that no one can undo;
 To her, I say, than fairest fairer,
 O that's more ravishing and rarer!

I

Apollo:

The Scoffer Scoff.

Apollo. Thou speak'st so feelingly I wis,
 With such a tickling Emphasis,
 As th'adst a mind to have it thought
 Thou wouldst thy self be fain so caught.

Merc. Marry, who doubts it? I, or else
 Would I had Clapper lost and Bells.
 Do but go with me now, and see
Beauty in her Captivity;
 And if thou be'st not of my mind,
 I then (my friend) shall be inclin'd,
 Or to suspect that there may be Something in't of frigidity;
 Or wonder that thy continence,
 Beholding so much excellence,
 Should be so constant, and so great,
 Which rare is in a Carrot-pate.

DIA-

DIALOGUE.

*Juno and Jupiter.*Nere stir (thou mighty God of Thunder)

I cannot chuse methinks but wonder how thou canst be content to have an effeminate drunken Knave

Bacchus is to call thee Father!

If he were mine, I should much rather have, then such a Rake-bell own,or a Dutch Swabber for my Son.

A drunken whelp, whose whole delight

is in swilling day and night,

with a loud Crew of hair-brain Jades,

a knot of very fine Comrades;

that good enough for him they be,

and far more Masculine than he;

that blurt to their Tabors and their Pipes

and jolts about his swagging Tripes,

with his hair crispt so neat and fine,

and crown'd with Chaplets of the Vine,

More like a Morris-dancer far
Than any Son of Jupiter.

Jup. Yet this effeminate drunken Son,
This Swabber, and I can't tell what,
With which thy over-liberal Clapper
Is pleas'd his merit to bespatter,
Has in a very little space
Conquer'd both Lydia and Thrace,
Which are no common Victories :
Nay of the Indies too made prize,
After triumphantly he had
Their huffing King a Captive made,
For all's Bravadoes, and his Rants,
And his Life-guard of Elephants.
Is this a despicable Son;
Who has so noble Conquests won ?
Nay, and (which yet appears more great)
Without the puther, toil, and sweat,
The wounds, the blood, the smart, and pain,
With which all others Conquests gain ?
This fellow subjugates the Earth
In a perpetual roar of mirth,

The Scoffer Scott.

So, fiddling, dancing, wenching, drinking,
None would think he least was thinking
Of any such important matter,
Of plotting things of that high nature :
And often (which is stranger yet)
At times when he seems most unfit
To act, or to command ;
When drunk he cannot go nor stand.
And if at any time there are Any so impudent to dare
To censure or despise
His jovial Rites and Mysteries,
He takes them in his Limb-twigs strait,
And teaches them so well to prate,
That once (among a many other Reverges dire) he made a Mother
Of an impiety like this
Her own Issue piece by piece :
And was not this, I fain would hear,
Worthy the Son of Jupiter !
If he be (as now-a-days
My young people take ill ways)

* Agav

A Toss-pot, and a drunken Toast,
 It always is at his own cost,
 And none (for all's Debauchery)
 Can say so much as black's his eye.
 Besides, if he such things can do
 When drunk as Drum, or Wheelbarrow,
 What would not this God of October
 Perform, I prithee, when he's sober?

Juno. Why this is wonderfully fine!
 Wilt not proceed to praise (Friend mine)
 His rare invention of the Vine,
 That parent of accursed Wine,
 After thou hast, with thine own eyes,
 Beheld the many miseries
 And mischief that the world disquiets,
Frays, Bloodbeds, Rescues, Routs, and Riots,
Brawls, Brabbles, Shreeks, the Devil and
 Of which it is th'Original?
 And that it cost the first * Boon-blade
 To whom he this fine present made
 Even his life, who had his brains
 Beat out his Coxcomb for his pains?

* Icarus.

Jup. Pish! pish! thou talk'st thou know'st
(not what I

the Wine for this is not in fault;
It's not the Wine, but the Excess,
That causes all this wickedness.

Wine of it self's a generous Juice,
Of which the right and mod'rate use
Quickens man's wit, and cheers his heart,
Gives vigor unto every part,

And the whole man with fire supplies
Both to design and enterprize):
But Jealousie and Envy make

Your Ladiship thus ill to speak;

There was a Semele, I trow,
Who still sticks in thy stomach so,

Thou else wouldst have more wit or shame

Than thus indifferently to blame,

With thy eternal fibble babble,

What's ill, with what is commendable.

DIALOGUE

Venus and Cupid.

Ven. Come on (Sir Love) since none is by
 But your small Deity and I,
 I must examine you a little,
 And tell me true unto a tittle,
Sirrah, it were your best, or else
 I'll jerk you with my Panables.
 How comes it: (Taunt) to pass, that you
 Who all the Deities subdue,
 And at thy pleasure canst make Noddies
 Of every God, and every Goddess;
 Nay even me dost so inflame,
 Who (Sbit-broech) thy own Mother am;
 But yet Dame Pallas canst not stir,
 As if (forsooth) alone for her
 Thou hadst no Arrows in thy Quiver,
 Nor yet a Torch to synghe her Liver?

Cup. Why (to confess the truth) I spare her
 For no very good will I bear her:

E.

But she is such a strapping Jude,
 In sadness, Mother, I'm afraid
 To meddle with her. To other day
 I for her in close ambush lay,
 And a convenient stand had got,
 Intending to have pink'd her coat;
 And to that end had chose an Arrow
 (With which I scorn to miss a Sparrow)
 Had notch'd it, and without all dread
 Had drawn it almost to the head,
 When by the snapping of a twig
 Espying me, she look'd so big,
 And did her Lance so fiercely brandish,
 My face turn'd whiter than your hand is;
 And I such fear was struck withal,
 That Bow and Shaft from hand did fall;
 Nay, I my self came tumbling down,
 As she had shot me with a frown,
 So suddenly, that, but my wings
 By voluntary flutterings
 Broke the main fury of my fall,
 I think I broke my neck withal.

And

(The Brauet Bron.)

And yet was not the swelch so ginger,
But that I sprain'd my little finger.

Ven. But Mars more dreadful is than she
For all her Launce and Shield can be;
His looks were terrible and grim,
Yet thou art not afraid of him.

Cup. Itwice dare him, e're once offend her;
He frankly does his arms surrender
To my dispose, nay very often
Calls me his Iron-fides to soften:
Whereas this fowr Pal-of-Ambree
Huffs it, and looks a-skew at me;
And when the domineering Drab
Beheld me, like a half-fledg'd Squab
Come fluttering headlong from the bough,
Sirrah, (quoth she) thou Bastard thou,
If with thy famous Archery
Thou dar'st to make a Butt of me,
Assure thy self my mortal Javelin
Shall in a moment be thy Navel in;
Or I will catch thee up by one
Of those fat stumps thou walk'st upon,

And

The Scourge Scour.

177

And give your Rogueship such a swing,
As (Monsieur Chitty-face) shall fling
You and your Implements to Hell;
And therefore (Don) consider well
Whom thou arttack'st. Go bird at other
Ladies of pleasure, shoot thy Mother,
She such a constant friend to Love is,
She'll take it for a Son-like office;
But level not at me thy Tiller;
For if thou dost (thou pore-blind killer)
I've told thee what thou art to fear,
And I will do it, as I'm here.
Thus said, she (which not to dissemble)
Indeed lau, Mother, made me tremble,
And that too with so fierce a look
As my poor heart could no way brook;
But like an Aspen-leaf I shook,
And star'd, as I'd been Planet-strook.
Which face so terrible appears
In that same steel Monteer of hers,
And then her Shield's so full of dread,
With that foul staring Gorgon's head,

Which

The Doctor's Song.

Which dress'd up in a Tow of Snakes,
The sight so much more horrid makes,
That the remembrance makes me sweat,
Uds fish! methinks I see it yet.

Venus, Dame Pallas and Medusa's head
Are mighty dangerous things indeed;
But yet, for all this mighty fear,
Thou nothing mak'st of Jupiter
For all the Thunder he does bear.
But (Sirrah) after these excuses,
How comes it that the Nine fair Muses,
Who Gorgon's head nor Thunder have,
Should scape thy Darts; thou jugling Knave;
Who, for all thou to do are able,
Do still remain invulnerable.

Cup: Why faith I do those Damsels spare,
Out of the reverence that I bear
To their good singing; who when I
Happen into their company,
Sing me, and that without intreaties,
Such Sonnets, Madrigals, and Ditties,
As ravish me, to tell you plainly,
For you know I love Ballads mainly;

I then were an ingrateful Dog,
Should I those Virgins set a-gog
With a mad flame, that nothing dreads,
And make them lose their Maidenheads;
By which their voices every one
Would be foul crack'd, nay spoil'd and gone.

Venus. But what has Dame Diana done,
That thou shouldst let her too alone?

Which way has she (small Quiver-bearer)
Oblig'd thy Deity to spare her?

Cup. Oh, that Donzella by relation
Is ta'n up with another passion.

Ve. What passion's that of Love takes place?

Cup. Why she's enamour'd of the Chace.

Wherein the lusty well-breath'd Dame
So fast pursues the flying Game,
The Hart, and Hind, the Buck, and Doe,
And skirs through Woods and Forests so,
That should I stalk at her a year,
I ne're should get a shoot at her.

And to pursue her is no boot,
The Damsel is too swift of foot:

But

But for her Brother, that Prince Prig,
 For all his dainty fanded Wig,
 And that he shoots at fourteen-score,
 I think——

Ven. Thou needst to say no more;
 Thou oft hast made thy fiery Dart
 Fizz in the hollow of his heart.

The Judgment of Paris.

DIALOGUE.

Jupiter, Mercury, Paris, and the three Goddesses.

Jup. Hey! Lacquey Mercury, appear!

Me. H An't like your Majesty, I'm here.

Jup. Here (Sirrah) take this golden Apple,
 And go where Paris tends his Cattle
 On Ida's top, to that smug Paris,
 Who all the Shepherds much more fair is,
 That smooth-fac'd Trojan, and acquaint him
 That I of Beauty Judge appoint him,

Because

because he is a pretty fellow,
and sometimes makes his Neighbors yellow,
and that he knows, though clad in frock,
Woman from a Weather-cock.

Come (fair ones) come, what are you doing?

It is high time that you were going;

I'll not be Judge, I swear, that's flat;

I think I know enough for that:

For if I should decide the strife

Between my Daughters and my Wife,

Such matters I am so expert in,

That two I should offend, that's certain:

And to be plain, I mainly dread

Falling an old house o're my head.

Then since I can please but one,

I will e'n fairly let't alone:

For you are Three that for it grapple,

And you all know there's but One Apple,

And I could wish, wer't I that gave it,

That every one of you might have it:

But none of you need doubt't appear

Before this new Lord Chancellor,

Don

Don Paris, who is to decide
Your controversy upon Ido,
Though *Chaucer*ies admit no Jury,
For he's a King's Son I assure ye,
Descended from an honest Breed,
Own Cofin here to Ganimede,
So upright, and so innocent,
That you all ought to rest content,
And have no reason to eschew him,
But wholly put the matter to him.

Venus. For my part, Father Jupiter,
I am content, and am so far
From questioning, much more refusing,
Any for Judge is of thy choosing,
That I should never doubt the matter,
Were Momus self the Arbitrator,
And willingly to this submit,
Who, if he have or eyes or wit,
Will surely understand the duty
That he and all men owe to Beauty,
And if my Rivals do consent,
For my part I am most content.

Juno. I from the Sentence shall not budge,
 Tho Mars himself were to be Judge,
 Although thy Paramour he be,
 And likely to incline to thee.

Jup. Art thou Minerva too agreed?
 She blushes, and holds down her head.
 But modesty's the Maidens grace;
 Besides I hate a brazen-face,
 And thou wert vertuously rear'd,
 Maids should be seen, they say, not heard.
 Therefore I see thou'rt too content,
 And modest silence gives consent.

Go on then in a happy hour,
 And let not those who lose look sour,
 Stomack th'Award, nor bear a grudge
 To him whom I have made your Judge:
 For there is but one Golden Ball,
 Which can't be given to you all;
 Nor yet can several Beauties strike
 The young man's liking all alike:
 And therefore he must giv't to one,
 Or keep't himself, and give it none.

The Scoffer Scoff.

M. Come now y've heard your charge, I pray
 Let us be jogging, Ladies gay,
 And set forth towards Phrygia ;
 I'll lead the best and nearest way,
 That you may neither stop nor stay,
 For such wild Cattle often stray.
 And for the bus'ness of the Ball
 Never concern your selves at all ;
 I know this Paris well enough,
 And of his dealing have had proof :
 He is a very honest Touunker,
 A bonny Lad, and a great Punker
 As out on's sight did ever thrust his---
 I'll warrant you he'll do you justice.

Ven. The Character thou giv'st the Youth
 Does even ravish me in truth,
 I've heard none such, this many a day :
 But is he marry'd, prithee say ?

Merc. He was a Batchellor last Friday,

* Ocnome. But he a * Sweet-heart has on Ida,
 If I mistake not ; but she is
 Some course, some home-spun, rustick piece,

that only now and then attends him;
 To draw the humour out offends him,
 A necessary piece of wealth,
 To keep his body in good health,
 With whom he plays to help digestion :
 What makes thee to ask that question?

Ven. I know not how it came to pass,
 Of something else I think it was.

Pal. You nimble Monsieur Merc'ry there,
Captain Conductor, do you hear?
 You'll discharge your trust (I trow)
 To hold discourse, and whisper so
 With Madam Venus on the way ;
 That in your Commission, pray?

Merc. Why if to pass the time we chat,
 What can you (Madam) make of that ?
 'Twas no such secret, never fear it,
 That we talk'd of, but you may hear it ;
 She only ask'd if Paris were
 A marry'd man, or Batcheller.

Pal. And good-now what is that to her ?

Merc. Nay, what know I (my Lady fine)
 She says it was without design.

The Scoffer Scoff.

Pallas. And is he marry'd?

Merc. I think not;

For why should he be such a Sot

As to go tie himself to one,

When all he speaks to are his own?

Pal. What! is the fellow a meer Bumpkin?

A down-right Clod, or has he something

Of Honour and Ambition in him?

For thou it seems hast often seen him:

Me. Why faith, the fellow being young,

Of active limbs, and pretty strong,

And being Son unto a King,

I think he would give any thing,

Nay (on my conscience) half his Cattle,

To signalize himself in Battle;

And would be glad 'mongst armed Bands

To shew how tall he is on's hands,

Always provided in the case

The Roysters would not spoil his face.

Ven. Why look you now, I can connive at

Your two discoursing thus in private,

Who tho you have much longer chatted,

Yet you see I'm not angry at it.

I'm of another kind of nature,
And no such froward snappish Creature.

Mer. Nor is there cause here, I assure ye,
To put your Ladiship in fury ;
For all she ask'd me was no more
But just the same you did before,
And I return'd in answer too
The same to Her I did to You.

But yet this little snapping Fray
Has helpt well onward on our way :
Helpt us well onward only, said I !

Why we're past all the Stars already,
And over Phrygia now are come ;
And so, fair Ladies, welcom home :
And see, sweet Charges, I have spy'd
The famous Mount ycleped Ide ;
And now I come a little nigher,
I think I see your Apple-Squire.

Juno. Whereabouts is he ? prithee shew,
For hang me if I see him now.

Mer. A little on your left-hand, Madam,
Driving his Flocks, I think to shade 'em.

Orth'

The Scoffer Scoft.

O'th' side of the high Mountain yonder,
 You there may see your Costard-monger.
 His Flock lies open to your view,
 And yonder is his Cabbin too.

Jun. V Where is this youngster with a por?
 I see no Cabbins, nor no Flocks.

Mer. A better pair of eyes Jove send ye;
 I doubt your Boon-grace does offend ye;
 Your Maid'nhead hangs not in your light,
Jove is too good a Carpet-Knight:
 I ne're saw th' like in all my days,
 VVhy he's as plain as Nose on face.
 Guide your eye by my finger here;
 Do you not see some Flocks appear
 Coming from out yon Rocks, pray speak,
 And one with Sheep-hook on his neck,
 Sending his Curr to fetch 'em in?
 They're plain enough sure to be seen!

Jun. Oh, now I see'm; Is that the youth?

Mer. That Madam's even He in truth:

That e're we further go, we here
 Do make our stoop, and light, for fear,
 Lest whilst on us he least is studdying,
 Flutt'ring about his ears o'th' sudden,
 We should perhaps afright him so
 That the poor Shepherd would not know
 Nor what to think, nor what to do.
 And he, who to determine is
 Of such a tickle-point as this,
 Had need to have his wits about him.

Jn. Which if he have, I nothing doubt him.
 So now w'are down, and now I pray
 Let goody Venus lead the way,
 For doubtless she, of all the rest,
 Most reason has to know it best,
 As having oft, to feed her Vices,
 Been here to seek her friend Anchises.

Ve. Well Governess of Heav'n's Commander,
 It is well known thy tongue's no slander,
 Slander to her who slander broaches,
 I scorn both thee and thy reproaches.

Me. Fy! (Ladies) fy! is this your breeding
 To squabble now you come to pleading!

But

But I shall this dispute decide,
 I my own self will be your guide;
 For I remember well when Jove
 Unto young Ganymede made love,
 I often on this Hill did light
 To see the little Favourite,
 To bring him Plums and Mackaroons,
 Which welcom are to such small Grooms;
 And when he carry'd him away,
 I flew about 'em all the way,
 To hold him up : And we must be Near to the place, for now I see
 (Or I mistake) the very Rock
 Where he sat piping to his Flock,
 When Jupiter in shape of Eagle
 Came the young stripling to inveigle,
 And seizing him like any Sparrow,
 With his beak holding his Tiara
 To make him sure, as swift as Hobby
 He bare him into Heavens Lobby,
 Whilst the poor Boy, half dead with fear,
 Writh'd back to view his Spiriter,

The Scoffer Scoff.

847

And then it was that he let fall
The Flute he piping was withal,
When I, who will no gain let go by,
Seeing my time, catch'd up the Hoboy.
But here is your Commissioner
Of Oyer and of Terminer;
Let's civilly salute him, pray,
And give his Lordship time o'th' day.
Good-day; thou top of Shepherds Fame.

Paris. To thee (fair Son) I wish the same.
What Ladies are these pretty faces
Thou lead'st into these desert places?
They are too fine and tender sure
These scratching Brambles to endure. (ter,

Me. Ladies! thou (Paris) mov'st my laugh.
They're Deities ev'ry Mothers Daughter.
You have before you, I'd have you know,
Venus, Minerva, and Queen Juno.
Tis truth I tell you (Sir) and I Am Cavaliero Mercury.
What! thou turn'st colour (my good friend)
And seem'st to be at thy wits end;

Take

[The Scoffer Scoff.]

Take courage (Paris) I exhort thee,
 We are not hither come to hurt thee;
 But 'cause thy Judgment we approve
 'Bove others in affairs of Love,
 And know thee for a Fornicator,
 We come to make thee Arbitrator
 Of a long suit these Goddeses
 Depending have i'th' Common-Pleas,
 About priority of Beauty:
 And therefore (Paris) do thy duty.
 As to the rest the Victors meed,
 Thou maist about this Apple read. (here?)

Par. Let's see't. Hump! what is written
Give this unto the Fairest Fair.

Great Gods! how should a mortal wit
 Be able to determine it!
 Too mean mans skill without dispute is
 To judge of your immortal Beauties!
 To judge of such Cœlestial Lasses
 A Swains capacity surpasses!
 Or that if any humane wit
 Were capable of doing it,

Some

The Scoffer Scoff.

175

Some Courtier it should be no doubt,
Much rather than a Collin Clout.

If I were put to it to tell

Which of my Sheep does bear the Bell,

Or to point out the fairest Goat,

I'd guess with any for a Groat ;

And I have such good Judgment in it,

That peradventure I might win it :

But these are Beauties so Divine,

And all with such perfections shine,

That a man's eye has much ado

To leave One to look on th'other Two,

But with the First's so captivated,

From thence he hardly can translate it,

But 'tis there riveted, concluding

That fairest is without disputing.

Besides (to speak the truth) my sight

So dazled is with so much light

Of Heavenly Beauty, that I vow

Two eyes methinks are not enow ;

But I at such a time as this

Would be all eyes, as Argus is,

With

With fuller sight to look upon
 So much, so rare perfections.
 And yet, even in that state, I fear,
 One being Wife to Jupiter,
 The other two his Daughters, I
 Should do very imprudently,
 In a contest of this high nature,
 As this for preference of Feature,
 Either to meddle or to make,
 But as they brew, so let 'em bake.

Me. You sometimes may discretion use,
 But here you can nor will nor chuse :
Jupiter says it shall be so,
 And what that means you needs must know.
 'Tis then in vain to prate and babble,
 His Orders are irrevocable.

Par. Why then have at 'em ! and let those Whose luck 'twill be the prize to lose,
 Blame their ill fortune, and not me,
 For I can please but One of Three.

Me. Nay they're all bound to that already,
 To Judgment therefore, and be speedy.

The Scoffer Scoff.

151

Par. Why seeing that it must be so,
Stand out (fair Ladies all arow :
But first (Sir Mercury) I would know
If I may see 'em nak'd or no :
For womens chief perfections do
Lie underneath their cloths below ;
Which they must either naked show,
And strip themselves from top to toe,
And ev'ry Goddeſs lay her tail
As bare and naked as my nail,
That I may see out of the caſe
All things as well as hands and face ;
Or I ſhall never be ſo wiſe,
Where I can have no uſe of eyes,
With Juſtice to award the prize.

Mer. Why thou art Dominus factotum,
And maiſt at will Unpeticoat 'em.

Par. Why then, if I may rule the roaſt,
I affect naked women moſt ;
And therefore Merc'ry ſo preſent 'em,
I may ſee all that Jove has ſent 'em. (skins,

Mer. Come Ladies, blanch you to your
Tis but a penance for your ſins, And

And what you are oblig'd to do ;
 Your Gouverour will have it so.
 And whilst your Judge with learing eyes
 Into each chink and cranny pries
 Of all your curiosities,
 I'll be so civil, or so wise,
 Lest any mischief should arise,
 To turn my back, which is of all
 Respects the most unnatural ;
 And whilst your treasures you display,
 Turn my Calves-head another way.

Ven. Why an't be for your worships ease,
 You may e'en do so if you please :
 But otherwise (my modest Don)
 Some here can abide looking on ;
 And, though you are a nimble one,
 Let our apparel but alone,
 And there is nothing, I dare say,
 Your modesty can steal away.
 In the mean time Gramercy Paris !
 He loves, I see, that play that fair is,
 And most judiciously has spoken,
 He will not buy a Pig a poke in.

But

But wisely will bring all things out,
And see within doors and without ;
And I will shew thee such a sight,
That if thou hast an appetite,
And art indeed a true-bred Cock,
When I pull off my Cambrick Smock,
Shall make thee glory in thy being,
And blest Jove for thy sense of Seeing.
Thou'lt then see I not only have Eyes, Cheeks, and Lips that can enslave
And outward Beauties (or else some lie)
As captivating and as comely,
As either Juno's here, or Hers,
Who stand my fair Competitors ;
But such a Skin so smooth and supple,
Of Legs so white a parting couple,
Such Knees, such Thighs, and such a Bum,
And such a, such a Modicum,
Shall make thy melting mouth to water
Perhaps by fits for sev'n years after.

Pal. Take heed (young Paris) thou'rt a Novice,
And that the cunning Dame of Love is ;

Look

The Scoffer Scoff.

Look not upon her, 'tis not best,
 Until she have put off her Cest ;
 For she's a Sorcerefs, and carries
 Enchantments in it, Monsieur Paris.
 She's nought but treachery and treason,
 Nor, to say truly, is it reason,
 Now that her Beauty's brought to th' test,
 That she should come so finely drest,
 Like a patch'd Minx, and painted Whore ;
 But when she comes her Judge before,
 As she came into th' world, I take it,
 Should appear open, plain, and naked,
 Stript of her Pouncings and Devices,
 Her shifts, her tricks, and artifices.

Par. Troth she speaks reason, come lay by
 That tawdry Girdle presently.

Ven. Make her her Helmet then lay by,
 She shall be stript as well as I ;
 There's no Enchantment in my Cest :
 But that same Cask has such a Crest,
 As is enough to look on it
 To fright a Shepherd out on's wit,

Sure

Sure she's afraid that her blew eyes
Want power to obtain the prize,
And if she finds they cannot dot,
She means to fright or beat thee to't;
And I commend her wisdom truly,
For her blew eyes will come off blewly.

Pal. No, I as thee as soon will strip;
And for to please your Ladiship,
There lies the over-awing Crest.

Ven. 'Tis very brave, and there's my Cest.

Ju. Fie, what a tedious work you make it!
Let's strip, I long to be stark naked;
And now we naked are (Sir Paris)
Consider pray which the most fair is.

Par. I marry, here's a sight worth seeing,
Though one had spent's Estate in seeing.
Oh what rare flesh! what excellencies!
What dainty, super-dainty Wenches!
What a brave Lass is Madam Pall!
What state does Juno move withal!
By which 'tis evident they are
Daughter and Wife to Jupiter.

L.

But

But Venus is indeed a Pearl:
 Did ever man see such a Girl?
 Oh what a lovely Face is there!
 What crisped locks of amber Hair! (ders
 What a white Neck! what Breasts! what Should Belly and Back to catch beholders!
 What Hips! what Hanches! what rare Thighs
 Enough to make the dead to rise!
 To which; in Love I'm not so simple,
 But to observe she has a Dimple,
 And such a one, as who would not
 Put all his Flesh into the Pot!
 In fine (as good Sir Martin says)
 I have not wit enough to praise
 The several Beauties, and the Graces
 Adorn them all in all their places;
 The sight whereof's a happiness
 Too great for Tongue or Pen to express?
 Nay any one of them would be Too much for mortal eye to see.
 Yet since the mighty Jupiter
 Has my poor Judgment priz'd so far,

I'll make me a Judge to make ;
 That in my choice I mayn't mistake,
 And thrust, like over-greedy Sor,
 My Spoon into th' wrong Porridge-pot,
 Better to manifest my art,
 I'll study every one apart,
 And view 'em one by one at leisure,
 (Which also will prolong my pleasure.)
 For in beholding them in Muste,
 They do confound me so with lustre,
 I shall my reputation lose,
 And ne're know rightly how to chuse.

Ven. Content, my cause I nothing doubt,
 And stare till both thy eyes start out.

Par. Why then let Madam Juno stay,
 She's the best woman (by my fab)
 And whilst her Beauties I admire,
 I'll have the other Two retire.

Ju. Come on (Sir Paris) now survey me,
 And turn me round as thou wouldst ha' me;
 I'll stand or lie as thou dost pray me,
 And moppe too, if thou'lt not betray me.

The Scoffer Scoff.

But when thou round about hast ey'd me,
 High, low, between, and eve'ry side me,
 (Young Paris) I would thee advise
 In loving and in courteous wise,
 To think that thy preferment lies
 In thy awarding me the prize :
 And though I need not bribe nor sue
 For that I know to be my due,
 Yet if thou'lt favour me this day
 I'll make thee King of Asia.

Par. Troth I am not ambitious, Madam;
 And as for Kingdoms, if I had 'em,
 To King-it passes my poor skill,
 And I should be a Shepherd still.
 But this the short is, and the long,
 I'll do your Majesty no wrong :
 And now I've seen what I desire,
 Be pleas'd I pray you to retire,
 And send me Lady Pallas hither,
 For I can't deal with two together.

Pal. Here (thou best Judge of best deserts)
 Contemplate on Minerva's parts :

hope, or thou deservest whipping,
 Thou wilt give me the golden Pippin :
 Which if thou dost (Touth mark me well)
 I'll render thee invincible :
 And whether thou with doughty Knight,
 Arm'd, or unarm'd, shalt enter fight ;
 Nay with a Gyant, or an Ettin,
 Thou ever shalt be sure to beat him.

Par. Lady, I never did delight in
 This scurvy dang'rous thing call'd fighting,
 And therefore shall not be a dealer
 In the commodity call'd Valour.
 Besides my Fathers Kingdoms are Quiet (thanks be to Jove) from war ;
 I with a Taylor play'd indeed
 At Cudgels, but he broke my head ;
 And have such scurvy luck in Battle,
 I rather had by half tend Cattle :
 But though I'm but a Countrey Peasant,
 I'll not be brib'd with Gift nor Present ;
 And yet I can't but thank you still (Fine Madam) for your great good will,

The Scoffer's Scoff.

Which I so kindly take, I swear,
 My Equity you need not fear ;
 For I'll do Justice, right or wrong,
And there's an end of an old Song.
 But to advise you I'll be bold,
 Pray d'on your Cloaths for taking cold,
 And your steel Cap will do no harm,
 To keep your learned Headpiece warm ;
 And pray as hence you do go from me,
 Send Madam Venus hither to me.

Ven. Here's Venus that you call for so ;
 Survey me now from top to toe :
 And if thou find'st when thou hast view'd me
 Any one wrinkle more than shou'd be,
 Or if my Bum have any flaws in't,
I'll give thee leave to put thy nose in't.
 I'll tell thee without fraud or guile,
 I have, and for no little while,
 (Having ta'n note of thy desert,
 And what a pretty fellow th'art,
 Thy youth, thy feature, shape, and fashion)
 Had on thee very great compassion,

To see thee tending rotten Flocks
 Amongst these solitary Rocks,
 Great Cities, nor Assemblies heeding,
 Where young men use to get their Breeding;
 But wasting here thy time in Caverns,
 Which would be better spent in Taverns.
 What's to be learnt amongst these Groves,
 By still conversing with thy Droves,
 I prithee say, and do not lie,
 But Ignorance and Clownery ?
 What pleasure's in this Rural life?
 Tis time that thou hadst got a Wife,
 Or, which is better, a fine Miss,
 Not some course Sun-burnt Trull, I wis;
 But of fam'd Argos some rare piece,
 Of Corinth, or some Town in Greece,
 Such as the Spartan Helen is,
 Her Sexes Pride and Master-piece,
 As handsom Paris is of his.
 And who (I know it) is as free,
 Buxom, and amorous as He.

The Scoffer Scott.

And if the little wanton Tit
 But saw Thee once, I'm sure of it,
 She would both Home and Husband quit,
 To follow thee for dainty bit;
 She would both love and long so fore.
 Didst never hear of her before?

Par. No, never syllable (I vow)
 But very fain would hear it now.

Leda.

Ven. Why she is Daughter to that * Fair,
 For whom our am'rous Jupiter
 Transform'd himself into a Swan
 Her Maiden-head for to trepan.

Par. And is she wonderfully fair?

Ven. Why what a Country-question's there!
 How should she, canst thou think, be other,
 Having a Swan unto her Mother?
 Nor is she gross, you may suppose,
 Whom an Eg-shell did once enclose.
 Hadst seen her once wrestle a Prize,
 Naked, as 'tis her Country guise,
 I dare most confidently swear
 Thou'dst long to try a Fall with her.

Already

Already they're at wars about her,
For Thesens, like a boisterous Suiter,
To Spirit her away made bold,
When she was but poor ten years old,
A little snotty Chitterling ;
But now she's quite another thing.
A Miracle I do protest,
Her Beauty with her Age's increas'd,
That she is now the only Miss
Of all the spruce young blades of Greece.
A thousand Suiters all have sought her,
But Menelaus now has got her ;
Yet for all that, shew me but favour,
And say the word, and thou shalt have her.

Par. How can I have her (that's a jest!)
When she is married thou saist ?

Ven. Is that a thing to be so wondred ;
Tis the least matter of a hundred ;
For that, Man, never scratch thy pate,
I can do greater feats than that.
In the mean time (Sir) by your leave,
You're a meer Novice, I perceive.

Par.

The Scoffer Scoff.

Par. But which way you intend to go
About it (Madam) I would know.

Ven. Why the design of it is this,
Thou shalt go travel into Greece,
Wherein thy main pretence shall be
Only for curiosity
To see what thou hast heard the Fame on:
And when thou com'st to Lacedemon,
E're thou'rt well got into thy Inn,
I'm certain that the lovely Queen
Will forthwith make her Hen-peckt Spouse
Send to invite thee to his House,
Which is as fair as fair can be ;
And for the rest, leave that to me.

Par. Why I will try my luck in Goddle;
But it wont sink into my noddle
That such an admirable piece,
The very flower and pride of Greece,
And a great Queen, as that you mean,
Should be so impudent a Queen,
To leave her Country, and her Honey
To whom she's join'd in Matrimony,

And

And run away with such a one
As I, a stranger and unknown.

Ven. Why I confess it something odd is,
But there's the power of a Goddeſs ;
And that's a trick that I deſie
Beſt on 'em all to do but I.

Now I two Sons have, you muſt know,
Which theſe miraculous feats can do ;
Of which the one by art is able
To make a party amiable,
And th'other has the power to move
Who ſees that lovelineſs to love.

In order then to this deſign
I mean to place theſe Brats of mine,
Who are t'effect this enterprize,
One of them (Paris) in thine eyes,
And th'other I'll convey by art
Into fair Helen's tender heart :

Which being order'd (by my troth)
The Devil muſt be in you both
If what remains do want fulfilling,
When both of you are made ſo willing.

But

But yet on surer grounds to go;
 (For one can't be too sure, you know)
 I'll give thee two strings to thy Bow,
 And thou shalt have with thee the Graces,
 (Three very pretty little Lasses,
 Who can do much in such-like cases,
 In thy adventure to attend thee,
 Whose services will much befriend thee;
 For they to grace thee not despising,
 Shall daily wait upon thy rising,
 (And never Asian Cavaliers
 Could boast they had such Chambriers)
 Where dressing thee each day, the whiles
 One tricks thy face in winning smiles,
 With greater power to accost her,
 Th'others in such a swimming posture
 Thy arms and hands, thy legs and feet,
 In such a graceful meen shall set,
 As shall, if Nell have any sence,
 So tickle her Concupiscence,
 That she will run the whole world over
 With such a rare accomplish'd Lover.

But

Paris.

Par. These are fine promises indeed,
 And tho' Jove knows how I shall speed,
 Yet I'm so ravish'd with this geer,
 That I already burn to see'r,
 And you have (Madam) set m'ambition
 So hot upon this Expedition,
 That e're a man can say what's this,
 Methinks I'm travelling to Greece,
 Am come to Sparta safe as may be,
 Have seen, attack'd, and won the Lady;
 Who having with her Jewels lin'd me,
 And being lightly whipt behind me,
 None to our Journey being privy,
 Am posting her to Troy Tantiuy
 All which does in my mind so run,
 That I am mad it is not done.

Ven. Soft ! do not spur too fast your Dapple
 Till first y've given me the Apple.
 There lies my Service's rewarding,
 That I must have, or else no bargain.
 Then give it me, I prithee do ;
 Come, come, thou know'st it is my due,

The Scoffer Scott.

I else shall either fret and fume, or
 So musty be, and out of humor,
 That the event is to be doubted,
 I'll ne're go chearfully about it :
 And then be sure no good can come,
 For one must never go Hum-drum
 About so nice a work as this is,
 But it is mettle carries Misses ;
 And therefore, without more protraction
 Give me this little satisfaction,
 And (Paris) when thou com'st to bedding,
 Oh how I'll trip it at thy Wedding !

Par. Nay, you're a Jigger, we all know;
 But if you should deceive me now!

Ven. Who I deceive thee ! never fear me;
 But if thou art distrustful, swear me.

Par. No, that security's too common,
 Besides, Oaths never bind a woman :
 But (Madam) if you can afford
 Once more to promise on your word,
 That I shall have this bonny Nelly,
 More of my mind I then shall tell ye.

Ven.

Why then know all men by these presents,
That spite of Princes, Courtiers, Peasants,
And all both man and woman-kind,
I here my self most firmly bind
To give thee Helen, pride of Greece,
To be thine own Lyndabrides,
That I will pay down Sparta's Spouse
In the now very Dwelling-house
Of Signior Priam King of Troy;
And then (Sir Paris) give you joy.
Nay, I do bind my self beside
To be in person mine thy Guide,
And will (since thy wit won't suffice)
Carry on the whole Enterprize.

Par. You my request are gone beyond,
I (Madam) did demand no Bond.

And will you bring your Cupids too
(My lovely Dame) along with you?

Ven. Pish! never doubt it man; I'll do't,
Desire, and Hymen too to boot. (hence,

Par. Then call the others in that went
That I may now proceed to Sentence.

Fair

The Scoffer Scoff.

Fair Goddesses I pray draw near.

Jupiter has employ'd me here
In such a very nice affair,
So much indeed against the hair,
That had his Majesty thought fit
To have exempted me from it,
I would have given (or I'm a Knave)
A score of the best Ews I have ;
But since he's pleas'd to have it so,
I must per-force obey, you know ;
Yet e're I do pronounce the Sentence,
Let me upon this small acquaintance
Entreat the losers to be civil,
And at my hands not take it evil
If I like one above the rest,
I cannot help it I protest.

Here is a Golden Apple here,
Which must be thought such price to bear
Through cunning o'th' malicious * Donor)
That none forsooth must be the Owner,
But she who is the fairest fair ;
When from my heart I vow and swear,

*The Goddesses Discordia.

And, without fraud or flattery,
 There is not one of all you three
 For whom a Bushel's not too few,
 Had but your Beauties half their due.

Which Beauties (gentle Madams) I
 Consider'd have impartially,
 And find them all so excellent;
 That truly I could be content,
 Were it consistent with my duty,
 To give to each the prize of Beauty:
 But I am ty'd, when all is done,
 Taward it only unto one.

Now Venus being in those parts
 Which have the greatest pow'r o're hearts,
 The most exactly shap'd of all,
 I judge to her the Golden Ball.

Juno. Learnedly spoke; I had not car'd
 If Pallas here had been preferr'd;
 But to bestow it on that Trapez,
 It mads me!

Pallas. Hang him Jack-an-apes.

M

DIA-

DIALOGUE.

Mars and Mercury.

Ma. HAst heard o'th' loud Rhodomontade
 That t'other day Jupiter made?
 Which was, That if we on this fashion
 Daily provok'd his indignation,
 He would, if anger'd once again,
 From Heav'n to Earth let down a Chain,
 With which he up to him would hale
Mankind, the Elements, and all,
 With such a mighty strength, that tho
 We all had hold of it below,
 And pull'd to stay't, we could not do't,
 But he would pull Us up to boot.
 Now I must needs confess, no one
 Of all us Deities alone
 Is able near, unless he list,
 To grapple with his Mutton-fist :
 And he will lose who ever vies
 With him at any Exercise :

But

But to imagine that all we
So brave a jolly Company,
Join'd altogether, should not be
As strong, nay stronger far than He,
In truth in him I do conceive it
An arrogancy to believe it,
And vanity devoid of wit
So openly to publish it.
And yet for all his mighty vaunting,
His domineering, and his ranting,
All of the Gods, and I and you know,
When Neptune, Pallas, and Queen Juno,
By combination had trepann'd him,
And had intended to have chain'd him,
He'd much ado, though his strength such is,
To dis-engage him from their clutches:
Nor had he done it for all that,
(Though now he vapour can and prate)
For all his striving and his struggling,
His writhing, wrigling, and his jugling,
Nor all his strength, which now so great is,
Had not his old friend, Madam Thetis,

The Scoffer Scoff.

In time of danger sent him there
Briareus the Hot-cockle-play'r,
 With a whole hundred cluster-fists,
 To dis-engage him from the Lifts.
 And by my faith he came in season
 To rescue him from the High-treason,
 Or else with this my huffing Don
 I know not how it would have gone.

Mer. Prithee hank up thy tongue again,
 And do not give it so much rein.
 These words do make my ears to tingle:
 'Tis well that thou and I are single;
 This language is unsafe, I swear,
 For thee to speak, or me to hear.

Mars. Dost think I have so little wit
 To talk thus unto all I meet?
 No, friend, I wiser am than so,
 I know well whom I speak it to;
 One who not only has a talent
 In speaking, but in being silent:
 But should another chance to come,
 Of Mavors not a word but mum.

DIALOGUE.

Pan and Mercury.Pan. God morrow (Father!) how dost do?Mer. Good morrow Son, since 't must be so;But why call'st thou me Father trow?

For to behold those goodly horns,

That py'd beard, which thy face adorns,

That single wagging at thy Butt,

Those Gambrels, and that Cloven-foot,

Thou dost much more (not to dissemble)

A He-Goat than a God resemble.Pan. 'Tis very well! but all this while

Thou thine own Issue dost revile,

And giv'st thy self many foul rubs.

Prithee what's he that gets such Cubs?

For all this handsom shape you see

Came from my Father, and thou'rt he. (it!Mer. I would thou couldst persuade me to

But thou'lt have much ado to do it.

I'll make much of my self, I'd need,
 If but in reverence to my breed.
 But if thy happy Sire I am,
 Who the great Devil was thy Dam?
 Did I not meet with some She-Goat
 Travestied in a Petycoat?
 For never sure did Woman bear
 So uncouth a prodigious Heir.

Pan. No Father, I would have thee knowt,
 Thou didst not couple with a Goat;
 Th'ast not forgot yet, I dare say,
 How once in fair Arcadia
 With beastly lust, and barb'rous power
 Thou didst a pretty Maid deflower:
 What need'st thou bite thy fingers ends?
 I only speak it amongst friends.
 It is Penelope I mean,

Merc. I do remember such a Queen.
 A pretty Girl: but how could she
 Bring out so foul a Beast as thee,
 More like a Devil than like me?

Pan. Nay, I'm as like my Dad, in sooth,
 As he had spit me out on's mouth,

That is, as like what then thou wer't
 When thou plaidst that uncivil part;
 For then, if th'ast it not forgot,
 Thou turn'dst thy self into a Goat
 With a face foul as any Vizor,
 In policy for to surprize her.

Merc. Yes, I remember, out upon it!
 But troth I am asham'd to own it.

Par. Faith for the Rape I cannot blame ye,
 But as for me, I shall not shame ye,
 And few there are preferr'd before me;
 For besides that they do adore me
 All o're Arcadia, where posselt
 I am of thousand Flocks at least;
 My qualities have purchas'd Fame,
 For Doctor I of Musick am,
 And more have made my valour known
 In the great field of Marathon,
 For which good service the Athenians
 Have given me a fine convenience
 Wherein to sit, eat, drink, or snort,
 A Grotto underneath their Fort,

Where

The Printer has committed a strange blunder in the next half dozen Pages, w^{ch} in reading must be taken in this Order, 182. 183. 190. 191. 178. 179

The Scoffer Scoff.

Bac. Why truly then I do commend her,
 And a good gale of wind Jove send her.
 In the mean time I needs must tell you
Priapus is a beastly fellow :
 For (no one being by but us)
 Calling at's house at Lampsacus,
 After we'd eaten well, and much,
 And quaff'd it smartly upsy-Dutch,
 It being pretty coldish weather,
 He needs would have us lie together ;
 And so we did, when in the night,
 When least (I swear) I dreamt of it,
 Betwixt some twelve and one a clock,
 He tilts his Tantrum at my Nock,
 Till with extremity of pain
 He plainly made me roar again.

Apollo. A very edifying story !

And what did you, whilst he did bore ye ?

Bac. What should I do but make the best on't ?
 I only laugh'd, and made a jest on't. (ther;

Ap. Some would perhaps have kept a pu-
 But thou I think couldst do no other,

But

But put on patience, and lie still ;
Alas! he did it in good will,
And it had been ill nature in thee
When he good meat and drink had gi'n thee,
For to grudge him who fed thee gratis
So small a courtesie as that is.
Besides he great temptations had,
For thou'rt a pretty smock-fac'd Lad.

Bac. But yet o'th' two (my friend Apollo)
Thou art by much the prettier Fellow,
And therefore if he once make sure t'ye
To lie in's house, faith look about ye.

Ap. Well, well! but he were best take hee
How he attaques my Maiden-head :
His mighty Trap-stick cannot scare us,
For we have good Yew-bow and Arrows,
As well as a white wig to tempt him,
And if he draw, he will repent him.
Besides, I'm so fet round with Light,
And am withal so quick of sight,
That much I do not need to fear,
To be surprized in my Rear.

DIA-

DIALOGUE.

Apollo and Bacchus.

Ap. WHo'd think that such a Jack-an-ape as Cupid, the mighty tool'd Priapus,
 And Androginus, of all others
 Should all of the same womb be Brothers,
 Being so much unlike in feature,
 In humour, and in shape and stature?
 For one's a little Goddikin,
 No bigger than a Skittle-pin,
 Yet little as he is can scare us,
 If once he takes his Bow and Arrows,
 And of the other two, the latter
 Can make nor Man's, nor Maiden's water,
 The t'other somewhere is more tall
 By handfuls, than the best on's all.

Bacchus. Why this diversity each gathers
 From the variety of Fathers,
 Though every day indeed presents
 As great and strange a difference,

Ev'n amongst those who had no other
But the same Father and same Mother.

Apollo. Yet 'tis quite otherwise, you see,
Betwixt my Sister Die and me,
Who the same Virtues have and Vices,
And follow the same Exercises.

Bacch. But that mad Hag in Petycoats
In Scythia's busie cutting throats,
Whilst thou dost men of money fleece,
With giving Physick here in Greece ;
And pray what Sympathy's in this?

Apol. Why Bacchus dost thou think that she Takes a delight in cruelty,
In hearing blood in throats to rattle,
Like liquor from a strait-mouth'd Bottle?
Alas! she only does it, she,
Meerly out of complacency,
Taccomodate her self to th' fashion,
And humour of that barbarous Nation;
At which she takes so great offence,
That she but waits to steal from thence,
When any Grecian Ship comes thither,
To catch her in, and bring her hither,

Bac.

The Scatter-Scot.

Where thou shalt see, if e're th'com'st thither,
How highly I am honour'd (Father)

Merc. What art thou marry'd?

Pan.

No not yet,

I hitherto have had more wit.

Merc. I wonder at it not, in truth;
For who'd have such sweet-fac'd Youth?

Pan. Pish! had I nothing else to do,
(Father) I could have Wives enow,
And therefore that's a vain Objection:
But I've so am'rous a Complexion,
And do with love so scald and burn,
One Wife would never serve my turn.

Me. Thou bugger'st then the Goats I doubt.

Pan. Good words! no, I'm not so put to't;
Eccho and Pitys, full of blisses,
Are both content to be my Misses,
And all the Rout of Bacchanals
Come with a powder when Pan calls.
By which (good Father) you may know
I better spend my time than so.

Merc.

Me. Believe't they'r wondrous kind to thee,
And 'tis no wonder though they be,
Tha't such a charming Phisnomy.
But I have a request unto thee,
Will do me good, and no harm do thee,
It is so small; which is, that seeing
I was so blest to give thee being,
Thou in return wilt be so civil
As not to pay my good with evil,
But wherefoe're we chance to meet
In house, or field, or in the streer,
So oft as we shall come together
Thou do forbear to call me Father;
For, not to mince the verity,
I'm damnably asham'd of thee:
But for this once shake hands and part,
And so farewell with all my heart.

DIA-

DIALOGUE.

Mercury, and his Mother Maya.

Me. BESTOW your counsel on some other,
 'Tis labor lost on me (good Mother)
 For e're I'll lead the life I do,
 And be this Drudge, I tell you true,
 And so I'll tell old Father Lasber,
 I am resolv'd I'll e'en turn Thrasber.
 S'fish! I'm a Slave, a Pack-horse made:
 Would I'd been Prentice to a Trade,
 Or bred up with some honest Farmer,
 Who would have clad me perhaps warmer,
 Though not so fine, and given me rest,
 And not have work'n me like a beast.
 A God, quotha! No Deity
 Was ever sure so us'd as I:
 But e're this life I'll longer lead,
 I'll stroll for Lower, or beg my bread,
 And run, nay fly, let who will hear me,
 Far as my legs or wings will bear me.

Maya

Maya. Nay prithee Son govern thy passion,
And do not talk of this wild fashion.

Mer. Why should I not speak out (forsooth)
So long as I speak nought but truth?

Tut! tut! I scorn to mince the matter;
I was not bred to lye and flatter:

And being abus'd thus, I must speak,
And ease my heart, or it will break.

I speak no Treason. Have I not
Very good reason to find fault,

When Jupiter does force on me
More work, more toil, and drudgery,

(Which, Mother, cannot be deny'd)
Than upon all the Gods beside?

First, I by spring of day must come
To wash and rub the Dining-Room,

(Which does not always smell of Ambler :)
Next, I must clean the Council-Chamber,

And dust the Wool-packs : After that I must go dress the Rooms of State,

Brush Cushions, Chairs, and foot-cloaths too,
(Which takes up no small time to do.)

Nay,

Nay, all this yet will not suffice,
 But I must sweep the Galleries,
 Though others are more fit to do't,
 The Lobbies, and back-stairs to boot :
 Then having swept my face of fat,
 Powder'd, and put on clean Crevat,
 I must i'th' Anti-Chamber wait
Jupiter's rising, to receive
 Such Orders as he's pleas'd to give.
 (Which ever num'rous are no doubt)
 And then must carry them about,
 Work that requires a supple Ham.
 Then Steward I o'th' Household am,
 Yes, and Cup-bearer too, at least
 As often as he makes a Feast,
 And had that office ev'ry day
 Till Ganimede came into play.
 But all this work is nothing yet,
 And I could well away with it :
 But that with which I'm most oppress'd,
 Is that at night, when all's releas'd,
 And every one goes to his rest,

No one but me employ he can
 To convoy a great Caravan
 Of pale-fac'd dead folks unto Hell;
 Company that i'th' night might well
 The stoutest God in Heav'n daunt,
 Where also before Rhadamant
 I must indict and prosecute 'em,
 Which e'r by Law we can confute 'em,
 Repeating every little Crime,
 Does take up such a world of time,
 The day is ready for to peep in ;
 And then what time have I to sleep in ?
 And yet all this, this Jupiter,
 Whom I have serv'd so many year,
 (Wherein h'as had good service on me)
 The conscience has t'impose upon me,
 As not enough employ'd I were
 In being Serjeant, Orator,
Cup-bearer, Wrestler, and what not,
 But I must on these errands trot,
 To be deprived of the rest
 Mortals allow to every Beast.

N

Castor

The Scoffer Scoff.

Castor and Pollux each one knows,
 By turns are suffer'd to repose ;
 But I am tost like Tennis-ball,
 And am allow'd no rest at all.
 But am dispatch'd both Morn and Even
 From Heaven to Earth, from Earth to Heaven;
 Whilst Bacchus here and Hercules,
 Who are no Sons of Goddesses,
 As I am, but more meanly born
 Of wretched Mortals, and forlorn,
 At great Jove's board in feast and play
 Merrily pass the time away.
 I need had of a Horse to ride on,
 For I'm but just now come from Sidon,
 Where I have with Europa been ;
 But I am sent away again
 To Argos with another How-d'ye
 To Danae a wretched Dowdy,
 When I am almost spent I vow t'ye.
 Nay more than that, I must, they say,
 Make too Bæotia in my way
 To visit there Antiopa.

But flatly I've refus'd to do it,
For (Mother) I'll not melt my Suet
For no good words that can be given,
Nor ne're a Jupiter in Heaven.

And though ('tis true) he keeps me brave,
On's service I such comfort have,
I sometimes would be sold a slave,
And run the risque of all disaster,
Fall what fall can, to change my Master.

Maya. Come prithee moderate thy passion,
These are but words of indignation.

I'll have no talk of parting neither :

What ! what ! you must obey your Father,
And never think he does you wrong

You must take pains too whilst y'are young,
And do what're he bids you do,

And fear not you'll have Sons enow
When you are old to work for you.

I prithee then no longer stand,

But go, and execute's command.

I know he's cholerick if thwarted,

And to be apt to be transported.

The Scoffer Scott.

Love too is such an odd disease,
 That Lovers are most hard to please ;
 Will always have their own fond ways,
 And are impatient of delays.

D I A L O G U E

Jupiter and Sol.

J. Why thou unlucky senseless fool,
 Thou Dunce, thou Loggerhead, thou Owl!
 Th'ast made fine work here, hast thou not?
 To go and trust thy Chariot
 With a young giddy hair-brain'd Sot,
 Who, unto thy eternal shame,
 One half o'th' world has set on flame ;
 And (which to think on't makes me shudder)
 So hard has frozen up the other,
 That if I had not knock'd him down,
 With a good rap upon his crown,
 And turn'd him topsie-turvy under
 With a good rattling clap of Thunder,

The Scoffer Scoff.

19

At the mad rate that he was driving,
He had destroy'd all Creatures living,
And all Mankind, had he on posted,
Had either frozen been, or roasted ;
And then you'd made (I hope you'll grant)
A pretty piece of bus'ness on't.

Sol. Oh Jupiter, I guilty am,
Yea, inexcusably too blame,
And without mercy am undone
For my indulgence to a Son,
I could not for my heart deny.

And then to see a * Mistress cry,
And tears run trickling down her face,
Would e'en have mov'd a heart of brass.
'Twas that that did my reason charm,
But (as I'm here) I thought no harm.

* Chm

Ju. No harm! how dar'st thou tell me so!
Didst not thy Horses fury know?
What hast thou been my Charioteer
So many hundred thousand year ;
Yet that thou know'st not, now canst swear,
What fiery head-strong Jades they were?

N ;

Yes.

The Scoffer Scoff.

Yes (Sirrah) you knew well enough
 How hard to rule they were, and rough,
 And that they would do more than trot,
 If bridle once in teeth they got ;
 And that if once they got a foot,
 Much more a wheel, out of the Rut,
 All would be lost. You knew all this,
 And yet for your Lyndabrides,
 To humor her (forsooth) you must
 Like a damn'd Rogue betray your trust,
 Endanger all the world, and set
 A Novice in that dang'rous seat,
 VVho to drive Tops was fitter far,
 Than guide the Day's triumphant Carr:

Sol. I must confess (as your Grace says)
 I knew the Fides were Run-aways,
 And therefore did the wilful Ass
 With my own hands i'th' Coach-box place,
 Taught him the Reins to draw and slip,
 And shew'd him how to hold his whip,
 Taught him the right Poppy too,
 Which both the Horses full well knew,

And

And my own hold before I quitted,
No one instruction I omitted
That I conceiv'd was necessary.
Assur'd then he could not miscarry,
I left him to himself, and bid him
Touchez mon fils, and so good speed him.
He crack'd his whip o're the mad Cattle,
The Chariot-wheels began to rattle,
And through the Eastern-gate they run :
But my fool-hardy, aukward Son,
So ill (wo worth the time. I got him)
Retain'd the Lessons I had taught him,
That he had scarce, it should appear,
A furlong got in his Carrier,
When th' Stallions with the flaming Mains
Finding by slackness of the Reins
They'd got another Charioteer,
Away they strain'd in wild Carrier,
And left the Road, which had they kept,
Although the wind they had outstript
In speed, yet running the right way,
'Twould but have made a shorter day :

The Scoffer Scoff.

But the rash Boy amaz'd with light,
 And dizzy at the fearful sight
 Of the Abyss he saw below him,
 Both Whip and Reins he strait cast fro him,
 And by the Coach-box held him fast,
 Till thou in wrath gav'st him his last.
 So for his temerarious action
 My Boy has paid full satisfaction,
 And in his loss I think that I
 Too punish'd am sufficiently.

Jup. He, I confess, has had his payment;
 But Thou, who wert the most to blame in't,
 Deserv'st at least to be strappado'd,
 Nay, fley'd alive, and carbonado'd:
 But I to mercy incline rather,
 And pardon an indulgent Father,
 On this condition (nevertheless)
 Thou never so again transgress;
 For if thou dost (thou Rascal thou)
 I'll make thee both to feel and know
 That this same Thunder which I handle
 Is hotter than your farthing Candle.

The Scoffer Scold.

In the mean time this I'll do for ye,
Because I see thou art so sorry,
I will that Phaeton's Sisters go
Interr him on the banks of Po,
Just where he fell, and for their guerdon,
I'll do a thing was never heard on,
Transform 'em into Poplars all,
From whom a certain Gum shall fall,
To imitate the tears they shed
Over the hair-brain'd Logger-head.
As to the rest, it fits thy care
Thy broken Waggon to repair,
Which will require, rightly to do it,
A Carpenter and Wheel-wright to it :
For first the Carriage is broken,
And one o'th' Wheels has but one Spoke on ;
The Harness too so much amiss is,
Tis torn in twenty thousand pieces.
But as to that, I (to befriend thee)
A special Cobler strait will send thee ;
And when th'ast got thy Tackle mended,
Begin anew where thy Son ended.

But

But now they've learnt a resty trick,
 The Jades no doubt will frisk and kick,
 As they were new again to break,
 And may endanger too thy neck ;
 I promise ye I mainly doubt ye,
 And therefore (Sirrah) look about ye.

DIALOGUE.

Apollo and Mercury.

Ap. I'm so confounded with this Pair,
 This Castor and this Pollux here,
 This brace of Cignets, that one Brother
 I'm still mistaking for the other ;
 Which puts me out of count'nance so,
 I know not what to say or do.
 For they're so like, that when I meet 'em,
 And with respect would kindly greet 'em,
Servant Don Castor, strait cry I ;
 I'm Pollux, cries he by and by.
 Then presently my self I flatter
 The next time sure to mend the matter,

VVhe

When meeting one of 'em alone,
What Monfieur Pollux? and go on,
I'm proud to be your Servant known;
And then 'tis Castor ten to one.

Now though herein there ever is
As much to him as there's to miss,
For both' wrong name I always light,
And never yet was in the right.

If thou canst give me then some mark
Particular to either Spark,

That I may one from t'other know,
I prithee (honest Merc'ry) do.

Me. Why that you yesterday embrac'd here,
When we together were, was Castor.

A. But how canst know him from his Brother,
When they're so like to one another?

Me. Why Pollux is so given to huffing,
His face still's black and blew with cuffing;

And, to be more particular,
His left cheek wears a noted scar

Of a good whirret Bebrix gave him,
Which over-board no doubt had drave him,

Had not friend Jason slept to save him,

VWhich

Which Recumbendibus he got
 By being of an Argonaut,
 When Jason sailed into Greece
 To steal away the Golden-Fleece.

Ap. Gramercy faith, I'll swear a book
 Thou hast oblig'd me by this token :
 For which was which I ne're could tell,
 But seeing each with his half-Shell,
 His white Horse, Javelin, and his Star,
 To me the same they always were,
 And I, when I would seem well bred,
 Did still confound 'em, as I said :

But since I'm so beholding to thee;
 Resolve me one thing more, I prithee ;
 And tell me why these Brothers never
 Are to be seen in Heav'n together.

Me. Why you must know that Jupiter
 Upon the hatching of this Pair,
 These Twins of Læda fair, decreed
 (I think for to preserve the Breed)
 That one the Destinies should curtal,
 But th'other be ordain'd immortal :

which known to them, as well as others,
 they, like two very loving Brothers,
 by an affection very rare,
 the good and ill alike would share :
 when one dies the other mourns,
 and so they live and die by turns.

Ap. 'Tis sign of very good condition,
 that 'tis a friendship sans fruition ;
 in this manner neither Brother
 can ever see or speak to th' other.

But of what Calling are these Blades ?
 For we have all of us our Trades :

I am a Prophet and Musician,

My * Son's a special good Physician,

My Sister plays the Midwife's part,

And Thou a famous Wrestler art.

Are these two good for nought, dost think,
 But only for to eat and drink ?

Me. O yes I promise ye, their Stars

Propitious are to Mariners,

And save 'em oft, when to ones thinking

They even are as good as sinking.

* Æscula-pius.

Ap.

Apelle. A charitable good vocation,
 I wish them nigh when I've occasion,
Good Seamen, saist thou (Merc'ry) marry,
 A Calling very necessary,
 And will (no doubt) when men are Sea-fet
 Do 'em more good by half than Phy fick.

Epilogue.

AND now (my Masters) rest you merry;
I doubt both you and I are weary,
Else I should very much admire;
Such trumpery a Dog would tire.
Yet in the precious Age we live in
Most people are so lewdly given,
That coarse Hempen trash is sooner read,
Than Poems of a finer thread:
Which made our Author wisely choose
To dizen up his dirty Muse
In such an odd fantastick weed
As e'ry one, he knew, would read.
Yet is he wise enough to know
His Muse however sings too low,
(Though warbling in the newest fashion)
To work a work of Reformation,
And so writ this (to tell you true)
To please Himself as well as You.

Epilogue.

Yet if (beyond his expectation)
This shall be grac'd with acceptation,
Like others much of the same fashion,
Which all have had your approbation;
The Rhymer will so kindly take it,
That he his business then will make it
No more thus sawcily to Scoff ye,
But something bring more worthy of ye.

* Poet he

In the mean time he bids me say,
If you'll not hiss this Puppet-Play,
He'll do what ne're was done by * any,
And raise the † Dead to entertain ye.
